Fight Aboard British Troopship Cameronia in Mediterranean Investigated

Canadian Press from Havas
Gibraltar, Jan. 3.—A brief matter-of-fact report by Capt. David Bone, recounting the deaths of three seamen attacked by British soldiers on his ship was studied by authorities here to-day.

Capt. Bone's vessel, the Cameronia, was bringing troops home from the Far East when the attack occurred early Wednesday while the sailors were sleeping. Three other sailors were injured in the brawl.

The motive for the attack was not revealed. All seamen aboard the ship were regular members of the merchant marine.

The soldiers involved were put in irons. They will be tried when the vessel reaches Southampton.

Capt. Bone was a friend of the late Joseph Conrad, who wrote many tales of violence and adventure at sea.

BODIES TAKEN OUT OF PLANE AT SEA

Alexandria, Egypt, Jan. 3.—Bodies of four of the twelve persons who were killed New Year's Eve in the Mediterranean crash of the Imperial Airways flying-boat City of Khartoum were recovered to-day by divers who cut through the cabin of the sunken plane.

The bodies were those of the two English women passengers, one member of the crew and an unidentified man.

The women were identified as Mrs. Ursula Horsman and Miss V. Eckford of London. Two other bodies, those of Mr. J. Bruckner of Bonn and A. H. Bastall of London, were recovered yesterday.

WAR RISK RATES FALL STEADILY

Canadian Press Cable
London, Jan. 3.—War risk insurance rates are steadily falling on the London market.

Slightly more than 5 per cent was quoted to-day against the risk of Great Britain being involved in war with any European nation during the next five months.

A few months ago it cost from 25 to 30 per cent to insure against a war involving Britain in the near future.

Lloyd's underwriters yesterday reduced by one-third their war risk rates on cargoes passing through the Mediterranean area.

DR. RIDDELL TO VISIT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Dr. Walter A. Riddell, Canadian permanent adviser at the League of Nations in Geneva, who is presiding over the International Labor Conference in Santiago, Chile, will return to Canada by way of Canada, it was learned to-day.

There was no particular significance to the fact that Dr. Riddell would travel back to Geneva by way of Canada, it was stated at the Department of External Affairs.

Building Prospects Good For 1936

When questioned about these prospects this morning, C. Fred Dawson, resident architect, Federal Department of Public Works, said the prospects had not yet been placed, but he expected they would be very shortly.

PUBLIC BUILDING PLANS READY
Mr. Dawson also expects early action on the $700,000 public building which the federal government proposes to erect on Wharf Street, plans for which were prepared by C. Elwood Watkins and J. Graham Johnson, local architects.

Mr. Watkins said this morning that the department had requested minor revision of specifications, but that the general plan of the building would remain the same.

The specification revisions will be rushed through by the architects and it is expected that tenders will be invited and the contract placed this spring.

Revision of the plans for the Oaklands School auditorium have been completed by Mr. Watkins to bring down the total cost from $11,500 to $8,000. The revised plans will probably receive the approval of the city this week and the contract placed without delay.

APARTMENT BUILDING

McCulloch and Harvey, local contractors, expect to immediately commence work on a $20,000 apartment building to be erected on Heywood Avenue for a Shanghai investor. W. Semeyn co-operated with McCulloch and Harvey in the preparation of the plans for this apartment block. It will be two stories high, with a penthouse to be occupied by the owner.

McCulloch and Harvey also have under construction two large residences on Upper Terrace Road, the Uplands.

One is a $20,000 Tudor home for Dr. Gordon Kenning. C. E. Watkins co-operating in the plans. The other is a Georgian style home, being built for Philip Vibert at a cost of about $6,000.

Sketch plans have been prepared by Architect Spurgin for a large residence to be erected on Midlands Road, The Uplands, for L. S. Greenhill of Shanghai. The same architect also prepared the plans for an eight-room house being erected by H. Leggett on Island Road, Oak Bay.

MORE FAIRBRIDGE WORK

During the coming spring a start is expected to be made on the construction of a new school building, a large dining hall and four new cottages at the Fairbridge Farm School at Cowichan Station. It is reported by Mr. Spurgin, who has prepared the plans for all the Fairbridge buildings.

Mr. Spurgin also expects the Qualicum Beach private school project for R. Ivan Knight to go ahead this year. The school has been opened, the playing fields at the edge of the site completed, and the site is ready for the foundation of the school building.

J. Graham Johnson is working on plans for several construction projects, including the Sooke Community Hall, which is expected to go ahead very shortly at a cost of about $6,000.

Hubert Savage is preparing plans for a residence to be built for a client on Kingsport Road.

At the public buildings to be erected on Vancouver Island under the federal government works scheme, the jobs at Sidney and Chemainus are expected to be let at an early date.

ARREST SOON AFTER HOLD-UP

by two customers in the beer parlor at the time.

Police were called to the rooming house and found Pedgorski hiding behind a barrel in the attic. A .38 calibre revolver loaded with dummy cartridges was found wrapped in a newspaper on a stairway in the building.

A similar weapon carrying three dummy cartridges was found some time later in a lane east of Granville Street.

At the time of the hold-up Robert Miller, clerk, and Harry Adams, porter, were behind the bar counting the day's receipts and B. M. Davis, manager, and another employee were standing in front of the bar.

The two bandits threatened the staff and patrons with their guns. One of them vaulted the bar and seized the money, then both escaped through the rear door.

William O'Brien, hotel porter, and A. Sinclair of Penitence, B.C., were just coming from the washroom as the hold-up men went out of the door. They took up the chase and, when the bandits split up, followed one of them to the rooming house, then called police.

PEIPING STUDENTS ON LONG MARCH

Canadian Press from Havas
Peiping, Jan. 3.—A group of 200 students left here to-day as a protest against the "autonomy" movement in North China. They face a 600-mile trek to Nanking. Accompanied by five trucks carrying provisions, the students set out to follow the railroad, first to Tientsin and then southward to Nanking.

the twenty-three prisoners refused to work and also refused to be confined to their cells. They spent the night roaming the corridors of the three-story brick building and at noon to-day were reported still out of control.

When the men were given porridge for their evening meal yesterday they claimed there was not enough milk or sugar to make it palatable. It was then the trouble is said to have started.

Another Governor Dumont nor any of his staff has entered the three-tiered cell block of the prison. It was believed this course of action was advised by provincial authorities pending arrival of the plane bringing help.

SOME SECOND OFFENDERS.
Some prisoners at the Ville Marie jail were sentenced to three months to one year for various offences, some of the prisoners are second offenders who have served sentences in other Canadian penal institutions.

It was learned to-day an effort was made to have the men clean corridors and cells of the litter created during the disturbance yesterday evening. Every scrap of paper available was shredded and scattered about the cell blocks, while the prisoners yelled and rattled the grates against iron bars.

Since the prisoners became free from their cells they have been intermingling without restraint, but it was understood the seven female prisoners are still in their cells and took no part in the disturbance.

for the government until spring. If the commissioner feels need for further enlightenment on any phases of the preparation of the report, it is probable that additional public sessions will be called for the examination of witnesses.

COUNSEL RETURNS EAST.
C. H. O'Halloran, counsel to the fuel commission, left this afternoon to return to Ottawa to represent this province at the resumption of hearings before the Tariff Board. These hearings on gasoline, oil and automobile tariffs were under way during the early part of December, being adjourned over the Christmas holidays. Mr. O'Halloran expects the sittings will be concluded before the end of this month, this being necessary so that the board's findings may be incorporated in the budget to be brought down at the sitting of the Dominion Parliament opening on February 6.

FRENCH CONDEMN DOLO BOMBING

Associated Press
Paris, Jan. 3.—A message of sympathy to the Swedish ambassador, comparing the bombing of a Swedish ambulance unit at Dolo, in southern Ethiopia, by Italian war planes with the "unforgettable precedent of the Lusitania" was dispatched to-day by the Chamber of Deputies commission of foreign affairs.

Argentine Move Aids Canadian Wheat Sales

Decision to Build String of Elevators in South Will Ease Dumping of Grain in Europe

Associated Press
Buenos Aires, Jan. 3.—The Ministry of Agriculture to-day approved the construction of government-owned terminal grain elevators with a capacity of 754,000 metric tons, to be erected at a cost of 64,000,000 pesos—about $17,000,000.

CANADIAN OPINION.
Ottawa, Jan. 3. (Canadian Press).—Construction of government-owned terminal elevators in Argentina, announced to-day in Buenos Aires, should be beneficial to Canadian wheat exporters, grain experts here said.

Argentina at present has limited elevator capacity and as a result must sell wheat as it is marketed. Argentine wheat comes on the market in January and sometimes millions of bushels are dumped on European markets in a few weeks. This practically drives Canada from the market for fear of prices tumbling.

Canada, as a result, does not re-enter the Argentine market in competition with Argentina until May, when it generally is safe for both countries to compete.

END OF DUMPING.
When the Argentine elevators are completed it will be possible for their wheat to be held off the market from January till May in the same way as Canadian grain. This should stop Argentine dumping and its attendant price tumbling.

Railway Minister Howe, when head of a construction firm two or three years ago, before entering Parliament, conducted an engineering survey of elevator problems in Argentina. His report was made to the government, but whether it formed the basis for the plan announced to-day, he does not know. His report advised construction of elevators.

SEAL HUNTERS DIE IN EPIDEMIC

Copenhagen, Jan. 3.—Twenty-six seal hunters have died in an epidemic of influenza on Angmagssalik Island, a trading post on the east coast of Greenland, reports received here from Greenland said to-day.

Ottawa, Jan. 3. (Canadian Press).—Officials of the Northwest Territories branch of the Interior Department said to-day no reports of influenza had reached them from the Canadian Arctic.

Commenting on a Copenhagen dispatch saying twenty-six seal hunters had died of the disease at Angmagssalik Island on the east coast of Greenland, south of the Arctic Circle, officials pointed out the nearest Canadian settlement on Baffin Island was 1,000 miles west.

The Børgesen Zeitung asks if Britain's frontier still is on the Rhine, and if the new mutual security arrangements are not against the spirit of Locarno.

Authorities refused to discuss talks between members of the general staffs of the two nations in Paris except to say they were strictly limited to the scope of the present situation. The officials, it was indicated, did not go into a hypothetical attack in the future.

The measure would provide for immediate payment in full of the adjusted service certificates, for the refund of interest on loans paid by veterans and for the cancellation of unpaid interest on veterans' loans. It moves up the maturity date from 1945 to April 6, 1937.

RADIO ARGUMENT.
The Republican high command continued to-day to denounce the President's move in making his address to Congress this evening a radio speech and demanded comparable time on the air for a quick G.O.P. reply.

Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican National committee, contended the President's speech would be "part of his campaign for re-election."

Japan Oranges Drop Lower

Japanese oranges are now selling at the lowest price in many years. The surplus of 33 1/2 per cent has been lifted by the new Canada-Japan trade agreement, and a shipment of oranges was cleared yesterday and is quoted at 30 cents a bundle less on wholesale row to-day.

Japanese oranges are now retailing at 50 to 55 cents a box.

FLOODS IN SUSSEX.
South of London there were similar conditions. The lowlands of Sussex became a lake extending from Steyning northward nearly to Horsham. The River Adur, which flows into the Channel, was two miles wide to-day between Beeding and Corfield.

Some roads in Kent were three feet under water and many villages were isolated. There was a decrease in rainfall yesterday and there is some prospect of the flood receding, but weather reports from the Atlantic threaten further downpours.

Great Western Railway engineers said to-day they expect to save the bridge between Devizes and Salisbury, which carries the main line to the west of England. Traffic was diverted in Wednesday when the supports for the bridge began to subside in the flood.

Research Council Has Year of Gains

Methods in Varied Fields in Canada Promise Advances in 1936

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Scientists attached to the National Research Council made discoveries in 1935 which will prove of benefit to many branches of Canadian industrial and commercial life. Laboratory work during the year made good progress and new processes evolved will be in commercial use during 1936.

Among the more notable achievements were those of the chemistry division in relation to the conservation of Alberta's natural gas; resources, much of which had been going to waste. Definite progress was made in the production of ethylene, a starting material for the manufacture of industrial alcohol and antifreeze, of carbon black and of benzol from Turner Valley gases. The benzol is suitable for motor fuel and the carbon black for use in making printing ink and automobile tires. Another discovery was a method for the plucking of poultry. Its use is becoming general across Canada.

VARIED GAINS

Other results of the year's work in the laboratories were: New and powerful insecticides, synthetic substances to stimulate plant growth; advanced tests of rust-resistant wheat; tests of Durum wheat for macaroni manufacture and of barley for malting. Improvements in cold storage facilities for foodstuffs; verification of all departmental standard weights; a new method of heating railway refrigeration cars in winter; a new type of plotting instrument for making aerial photographic maps in greater detail; a new type of aircraft ski more satisfactory than wheels.

LABOR IN CONTROL

Winnipeg, Jan. 3 (Canadian Press).—Labor retained control over Winnipeg's civic administration at the first 1936 meeting of the city council yesterday. Four Independent Labor Party members were named to chairmanships of standing committees and labor majorities were maintained on most committees and commissions.

FEW WILL SEE ECLIPSES IN 1936

Arctic, Antarctic and Northern New Zealand
People Privileged Spectators
This Year; Only Four Eclipses

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 3.—Eskimos, Antarctic explorers and others whom duty keeps in the polar regions of the earth, will be privileged people during 1936, for they will be about the only ones to witness the four eclipses, two of them of the sun, which will occur in a year year for astronomical phenomena.

At that, the explorers have the advantage, for the Arctic's total lunar eclipse, which will take place January 8 and be visible only in far northwestern Canada, will be cut off abruptly when the moon sets soon after the beginning of the eclipse. The other eclipsing-off of the moon's light by the earth's shadow will only be partial and will be visible in the Antarctic on July 4.

One of the most magnificent spectacles astronomers can witness, a total eclipse of the sun, occurring on June 19, loses much of its importance when the fact is made known that it can be seen only in the regions bordering the Arctic Circle.

Northern New Zealand and a section of the southern Pacific will view the beginning of an annular eclipse of the sun on December 13, but the best viewpoint will be found in the Antarctic. An annular eclipse takes place when the moon is at its maximum phase, or greatest distance from the earth. Appearing smaller because of distance, it does not completely cover the sun's surface at the period of totality, leaving an outer ring of light.

Billings, Mont., maintains its own inspection station for automobiles, where motorists of that city are required by ordinance to have their cars inspected three times yearly.

SOCIAL CREDIT MOVES IN B.C.

Premier Aberhart, Back in Alberta, Predicts Effort in Next Provincial Election

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 3.—Social Crediters of British Columbia are planning to contest the next provincial election there, according to Premier Aberhart, who is back in Alberta after a short vacation in Vancouver.

Mr. Aberhart, who found "the lower altitude of the coast quite relieving to nervous tension," stated on his return here yesterday evening he had been asked by various leaders of the movement in British Columbia to assist in organization and campaign work, but told them he had no desire to go into another province unless it was absolutely essential.

Representatives of Social Credit in Saskatchewan had also asked him to give personal assistance to supporters at that province. Premier Aberhart declined.

The same situation prevailed in both provinces, he declared. Unified action among Social Crediters was needed.

COUNCIL PLAN

The Premier said he had advised British Columbia representatives they should set up an advisory council to act as a clearing house for their groups throughout the province. All British Columbia groups were anxious to make progress toward political action, he declared.

"I haven't really time to do anything to help them," the Alberta Premier stated, adding he had a big enough job in his hands to institute Social Credit in Alberta.

With regard to an "Alberta week" at the forthcoming Vancouver jubilee exhibition, as mooted by Mayor McGeer, the Premier said that while the Vancouver mayor had suggested the matter to him, and he had been sympathetic to the idea, he could not discuss it before the government considered it.

Sir James Roberts Of London Dies

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 3.—Sir James Roberts, prominent British manufacturer and philanthropist, died yesterday at the age of eighty-seven.

He was born at Haworth, Yorkshire, when the Bronte sisters—Charlotte, Emily and Anne—were still living at the parsonage, and well remembered the famous authors.

He recalled having talked, as a boy, with Charlotte Bronte. He could also describe the occasion when Arthur Nicholls—the curate who eventually married Charlotte—catered Haworth children in the schoolhouse.

He owned about 12,000 acres, the Alpaca Manufacturing Works and the model town of Saltaire.

N. MACKENZIE OF REGINA DIES

Canadian Press
Regina, Jan. 3.—A man who helped lay the foundations for Canada's two youngest provinces, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Norman Mackenzie, sixty-six, pioneer of the west, died yesterday.

Brilliant lawyer and noted art collector, Mr. Mackenzie came to the prairies in 1892 and to Regina when it had a population of only 1,500. He was official solicitor for Saskatchewan and Alberta when the two provinces were formed in 1905.

Aberhart's Bible Meetings Lively

Alberta Premier's Prophetic Institute Sessions in Calgary Are Mingled Political Events and Evangelistic
Gatherings

Canadian Press
Calgary, Jan. 3.—All the attractions of an enthusiastic political meeting and also of a sincere evangelistic gathering are contained in a Sunday afternoon service at the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute, founded and headed by Premier Aberhart of Alberta.

The institute in downtown Calgary can seat about 1,500 persons, but probably 300,000 persons in western Canada listen to the broadcasts. At a typical meeting, Mr. Aberhart is "master of ceremonies." Following are a few highlights of such a meeting:

The service opened with the hymn "On the Cross for Me," and soon Mr. Aberhart had men, women and Bible students singing separately to see "who is singing."

"Some of the fellows are so sad they can't sing," the premier said. "You can't sing with a long face. Don't look dead even if you are."

FROM THE SOUL

Those who believed they were included "when the Lord said whosoever" were asked to sing. "Sing and sing from your soul," Mr. Aberhart commanded. "When the Lord died on the cross He saved everyone."

Brother Hutchinson then led in prayer. "Bless him," one of the congregation interjected. It was time for Mr. Aberhart's address.

He asked the people to give him a chance to build a firm foundation before he introduced social credit legislation, told them to stop their "confounded grumbling," outlined the government's plans and answered political opponents.

The audience applauded by clapping vigorously at intervals and laughed heartily at the premier's humorous remarks.

The former Calgary high school principal explained government plans and policy, and gave his version of excerpts from the Bible in answer to letters from all parts of western Canada. Other letters were received from South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, the United States and other countries.

TRAVELS BY BUS

Messages from farm folk, in the city to attend a meeting, were sent to relatives in the country.

"Hello Tinsell—Nora has changed her plans and will leave for Bolton on the bus to-morrow at 4:50 p.m." was one of the messages Mr. Aberhart announced.

"Let's hear you sing my old war song," Mr. Aberhart continued. "Come on now. I'll make you Flashes of Men." The congregation sang.

"What do you folks think you will fish with?" the premier asked. "The word, eh? All right, you have the right bait."

SPRUCE HIM UP
"I like those songs, you know. They spruce me up. I would like you to sing 'On the Cross for Me.'"

The meeting closed with Mr. Aberhart's explanation to the students of the eighth chapter of Zechariah. His address on the chapter was entitled: "The Future Prospect—To Be or Not to Be."

F. J. Gillespie, Vancouver, Dies

Well Known in Insurance
Field; Retired Five Years Ago

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 3.—Francis J. Gillespie, a pioneer in the Vancouver insurance field, died yesterday on the eve of a round-the-world cruise he had planned to take as a post-birthday celebration. He was eighty-one years old December 14 last.

He had been in ill-health for the last few weeks and intended the ocean voyage as an aid to speed his recovery. Born in Adajala, Ont., in 1854, he was educated at the Bible College Institute and La Salle University in Philadelphia. He came west shortly after the turn of the century and settled in Vancouver, where he entered the insurance business. Until his retirement, five years ago, he had been British Columbia manager for the Eccles Life Insurance Company.

He was appointed commissioner for the municipality of South Vancouver in 1918, and was active in civic bodies in Vancouver.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. G. W. Norris of Los Angeles and Mrs. J. D. McCormack and Mrs. F. J. Flahiff of Vancouver, and four sons, J. A. of Calgary, M. J. of Vancouver, Donald P. of Hamilton and Wilfred of San Francisco. His wife predeceased him six years ago.

NEW ATTACK ON BALDWIN

London News-Letter, Macdonald Party's Paper,
Springs Surprise

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Jan. 3.—The News-Letter, organ of the National Labor Party which was formed by former Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in 1931 to support the National Government, to-day published a surprise attack on Prime Minister Baldwin.

In some quarters the article was heralded as a definite break between the Prime Minister and MacDonald, who remains in Baldwin's cabinet as Lord President of the Council.

The News-Letter was particularly biting in its references to Prime Minister Baldwin's criticism, in the House of Commons of post-war diplomatic methods, such as hasty and rapid visits by cabinet ministers to foreign capitals where they lack direct contact with their colleagues at home.

The article also attacked former Foreign Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare and the Paris peace plan he drafted in collaboration with Premier Laval of France, which was later repudiated by the British Government.

L. Stokowski Will Experiment

Philadelphia Orchestra Will Have Eugene Ormandy
As Conductor

Associated Press
Philadelphia, Jan. 3.—Leopold Stokowski, "blind maestro" of the Philadelphia Orchestra, will end his twenty-three-year-contractual relationship with that institution next spring, and Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, will succeed him. Mr. Ormandy has frequently conducted the orchestra.

A desire to devote more time to research, Mr. Stokowski said yesterday, prompted him to decline a new three-year contract. He said, however, in a joint statement with the board of directors, that he planned to conduct about twenty Philadelphia Orchestra concerts next season.

It is understood his work will be in scientific laboratories where research will be conducted into the science of sound as applied to music and its reproduction.

His decision not to sign another contract is expected not to interfere with a contemplated tour by the orchestra of the United States and Canada.

Mr. Neely has in his possession a letter Walker said he received in his jail cell. It reads:

"Dear Sir—Conversation was heard at the hotel at St. Thomas in what is supposed to be —'s room. On your way to London for your trial something is to happen to you that could be covered up, and you not reach there alive."

New Powers For Tariff Board

Parliament to Clarify System of Valuations For Duty

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Jan. 3.—New powers as a sort of tariff arbiter between the Canadian government and foreign countries will be exercised by the Canadian Tariff Board when full effect is given to the trade notes exchanged recently between Canada and Japan and the Canadian note to the United States in connection with the reciprocity treaty.

Experts hold to the opinion the Japanese note introduces something new in customs administration in that it gives authority to a board to review and perhaps alter or cancel the decision of a minister of the crown. Just how this will be worked out has not been decided, but it will likely involve revision of the Customs Act or the Tariff Board Act at the next session of Parliament.

It appears the powers of the board are being further extended. When it was established, its main function was to hear requests for revision of tariff rates and report findings to the government.

The board enters the picture as between Canada on the one hand and the United States and Japan on the other in connection with the imposition of values for duty. Section 6 of the National Revenue Act provides the Minister of National Revenue may fix the value for duty of any product imported under certain conditions when he is instructed to do so by the Governor-in-Council.

VALUATIONS CANCELED

Pursuant to undertakings given the United States and Japan, most of the valuations for duty under this section were canceled and further undertakings were given as to the imposition of future valuations.

The United States note in effect gave the board the right to review any valuation made and published as finding as to its propriety, but no power to abolish or change any valuation. The Japanese note went farther.

It contemplates the Tariff Board being clothed with authority to cancel or alter the ruling of the Minister of National Revenue as well as review it. No mention is made of any appeal from the board's finding, although this may be provided in any legislation enacted to give effect to the undertaking.

Under the most-favored-nation clause in the United States treaty the concession granted Japan will likely be extended to the United States as well as to other most-favored nations.

As most of the values so far imposed under section 43 have been canceled, the board is not likely to be confronted with an appeal for some months. Under established procedure it takes a couple of months to get a value for duty imposed and if one were imposed another lapse of time would take place before an appeal could be registered. In the meantime Parliament will have met, the budget will have been brought down and any necessary amendments to the law will have been made.

THE TRADE AGREEMENT OPERATING

CANADA'S NEW TRADE AGREEMENT with the United States went into effect on Wednesday. This is the final outcome of negotiations between the governments which were begun several years ago and quickly completed by Premier Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt. Under the provisions of the agreement both countries grant one another what is known as the most-favored-nation treatment, but with special concessions in a number of commodities. The undertaking lays down, however, that advantages now or hereafter accorded exclusively to countries of the British Empire shall be excepted from its operation.

It will be recalled that after Mr. Mackenzie King signed the pact he expressed the hope the agreement would restore trade between the two countries, and added: "To an anxious and troubled world we hope that there will be opened to the nations, by force of our example, vistas of a surer path to progress and a more lasting road to peace." President Roosevelt put it this way: "The agreement places the trade relations of our two countries on a basis of mutual agreement for the first time since 1866. I am happy to have had a part in removing this anomaly in the relations of two countries which are united by so many bonds of friendship and common heritage. The signature of the agreement marks a reversal of the trend of the last two decades towards unnecessary trade barriers between our two countries. I am confident that this constructive step will contribute greatly to the economic recovery of both the United States and Canada."

As United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull had much to do with the negotiations, and as a stout believer in free trade between nation and nation, this was his interpretation of the significance of the pact: "While other parts of the world are slipping in the direction of economic suicide, this trade agreement between our two countries marks an outstanding step in the direction of economic sanity. It seeks to stimulate sound and healthy trade relationships, and thereby restore employment and wholesome prosperity to the peoples of both countries. It sets an example of what must be done to establish a solid foundation on which to build a suitable structure for world peace."

The agreement affects sixty items of Canadian exports to the United States. There are reductions in duties ranging from one-third to one-half on live cattle, with a quota of 155,000 head annually, and with additional smaller quotas for dairy cattle and calves. It is easy to realize the benefit these concessions will give to the livestock industry of the Dominion. Here are other details covered by the agreement:

The duty on cream is reduced from slightly over 56 cents per gallon to 35 cents on a quantity of 1,500,000 gallons annually.

Important to the Maritime Provinces is a seasonal reduction of the duty on seed potatoes from 75 to 45 cents per cwt., with a quota of 750,000 bushels, which is three times the present export.

Important also to the Maritime Provinces and to British Columbia as well as reductions of the duties on halibut, salmon, swordfish and other fish and fish products.

The timber duty is cut in half, from $8 to $4 per standard. The new duties apply to Douglas fir and western hemlock from British Columbia, for a quota of 125,000 standards annually.

The duty on whisky is reduced to $2.50 per proof gallon.

British Columbia, of course, is especially interested in the reduction of the duties on lumber and fish. The quota for western hemlock and Douglas fir, for example, will mean much larger sales than have been possible since the duty was raised a few years ago from one dollar a thousand feet board measurement to four dollars. In terms of feet, the pact cuts the duty in half, to two dollars. In general, the agreement is a business-like attempt to recapture a good deal of the trade between the two countries which both enjoyed before the tariff war began—a trade which has dropped to very nearly one-third of what it was five years ago. Indeed, Canada's total external trade to-day is less than her trade with the United States alone in 1930.

NEUTRALITY AND THE U.S.

ONE OF THE OUTSTANDING SUBJECTS for consideration by the United States Congress which begins its deliberations to-day is the relationship of the republic to nations at war. A bill has been in preparation by the foreign relations committees of both Houses after conferences with the president which will give a wider expression of the policy of neutrality than that which now exists. Under the present neutrality law the prohibition of exports to belligerents is limited to armaments and munitions. It is surmised that the proposed measure will extend the embargo to a wider range of commodities such, for example, as oil and cotton.

There is a strong feeling among congressmen that the United States should not have any trading relations with warring countries at all. Senator Champ Clark is the leader of the group which advocates this course, which he urged upon Congress in its last session, and will again advocate this year. He contends that complete non-intercourse is the only way by which the United States can avoid being drawn into a conflict in which it has no direct interest. While such a policy, he admits, would involve the loss of considerable trade, the cost in this respect would be negligible in comparison with the loss of lives and money which would arise from participation in war.

That the Congress this session will go as far in the direction of neutrality as Senator Clark would have it is doubtful in the light of the forthcoming election campaign. While the administration naturally will endeavor to emphasize its virtues for the edification of the electorate, it will avoid raising any issue which might place it at a disadvantage in influential quarters. It is true that the people of the United States are overwhelmingly in favor of neutrality, and are determined to keep clear of any martial entanglements abroad, there are powerful elements among them who do not agree that this is not possible without cutting off all intercourse with belligerent nations. The time is not far distant, however, before the policy advocated by Senator Clark will be adopted, even if Congress will not have it at this session. If a similar attitude were pursued by the British Commonwealth a prolonged major war would be impossible.

VICTORIA'S LOSS

VICTORIA HAS SUSTAINED A VERY real loss in the passing yesterday of Miss M. A. Wigley, a resident here for thirty-eight years. Endowed with a sensitive and sympathetic understanding and of an almost prodigious generosity, she gave lavishly of her energies and time in the cause of others less fortunate, and in this, as in many other ways, demonstrated her acceptance of the responsibilities of citizenship in its widest sense. But of all the causes which she so valiantly and zealously espoused, few were nearer to her heart than the Women's Workroom. Sponsored, at her suggestion, by the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club some years ago, the Workroom owed much of its successful administration over a difficult period to her apparently inexhaustible efforts as head of the finance committee, and, more recently, as its president.

A woman of culture, vision, tolerance and a keen sense of humor, she was imbued with the qualities which make for lasting friendship. Her memory will be cherished, not only in the Women's Workroom but in the hearts of all those with whom she shared a lavish humanitarianism and warm friendship, and the whole community will share with her relatives a deep sense of irreparable loss.

WE ARE COMING BACK

SIR EDWARD BEATTY, PRESIDENT OF the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, tells us in his New Year's message that Canada is better off than many other nations. He admits, of course, that we still are confronted with a serious unemployment problem; but he is right in his general contention that our country is suffering less than many others.

The chief executive of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company argues that the thought of our being better off than most of the nations "is important in that it provides a yardstick for the appraisal of our own present situation, and a just basis for the estimate of our future." With the exception of Great Britain, he goes on, "no one of the larger countries presents evidence of having advanced so far along the road to re-establishment of industry or to normal commercial activity on what appears to be a permanent basis" as Canada now presents.

It should be reasonable to suppose that Sir Edward Beatty welcomes the beginning of the operation of the new trade agreement between Canada and the United States. His huge transportation concern depends upon the movement of goods across this continent, across the seven seas—especially the Pacific—and from the purely economic sense, as far as railways are concerned, it does not matter whether those goods fall under the category of exports or imports. Both exports and imports require the services of the transportation companies.

We suggest that "a just basis for estimate for our future" is that both of our great railway transportation systems will regain much of the business they have lost in the last few years. They will regain it because there is in office at Ottawa a government which believes in the fullest measure of selling and buying—a government which has no use for an economically unsound one-way trade.

THE BATTLE OF TORONTO

THE MAJOR FRONT IN TORONTO'S municipal election battle often is found in the newspaper field, the actual contests between the various candidates being minor engagements. The election recently seems to have been a conflict in which The Toronto Star was engaged, single-handed, against an alliance of The Globe, The Telegram and The Mail and Empire, The Star backing Ald. Sam McBride for mayor and the three other dailies Harry Hunt, proprietor of a chain of confectionery stores. In one respect, however, they were unanimous, and that was the unsuitability of Mr. Simpson who offered himself for re-election as mayor. As there was no newspaper supporting him, Mr. Simpson, with characteristic energy, published a campaign sheet in his own behalf.

The Star won its lone campaign, which means that Alderman McBride was elected, with more than 45,000 votes. Hunt was second with over 39,000, while former Mayor Simpson was last with something over 30,000. Mayor McBride is an old hand in Toronto's municipal life, having been controller, alderman and chief magistrate for more than twenty years. If he justifies all the good things The Star said about him he will give Toronto perfect civic government, and, conversely, if he fits the picture painted of him by the three other newspapers Toronto will go completely to the dogs. Peace, perfect peace, will now descend upon the battlefield, and will continue there until the I-Told-You-So time has arrived three or four moons hence.

THE LADY AND THE TRAMP

The haughty lady tossed her head.
"Such filthy rags to wear!" she said.
"In all my days, I've never seen
A man so horribly unclean.
Have you no single shred of pride?"
"I'm just a tramp," the man replied.

"I must confess my garments frayed
Are not as nice as tailor-made;
But beggars cannot pick and choose.
They search the rubbish heaps for shoes
And coats and vests and I submit
'Tis hard to find a perfect fit."

"Hope not a well-dressed tramp to see
For, lady, that can never be.
In vain we search the rubbish piles
For perfect fits and latest styles.
Or nobby shades of blue and grey;
But suits like that aren't thrown away."

"Of coats discarded never one
I've found with all the buttons on.
In all the years I've yet to find
A blue serge suit with satin-lined.
So tramps will never dress in style.
Till fashion decks the rubbish pile."

Loose Ends

On consulting the stars, one finds that many events will occur during this year—most of them strangely similar to all that has gone before.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FORECAST

THIS PAPER CARRIED such a full and detailed prophecy about the new year a few days ago that it is hardly necessary for me to exert my well-known astrological powers. The famous British astrologist who was quoted in these columns predicted among other remarkable things that there would be trouble this year in Ethiopia, that politics and the weather would be uncertain and that the economic situation would remain puzzling. The accuracy of astrology is really an uncanny thing.

If I may add a few local details to the year's picture, I may say that I have consulted the planets as well as certain recognized experts like Mr. Noggins and the famous star door and I am able to lay down the whole course of 1936 in detail as follows:

The first part of the year will hold out prospects of great economic improvement and it will be generally known that good times will return before autumn; and while this has been generally known at the beginning of every year since 1929, this year it will be different, as usual.

POLITICS

ABOUT THE MIDDLE of February provincial politics will become active, with a meeting of the Legislature, with high winds and warm blasts from many directions, but the wise man will not allow these disturbances to interfere with the planting of early peas and potatoes.

Imminent crises in the Pattullo government will be reported at weekly intervals during March, but the first flowers will bloom in April as usual. The crisis will be postponed for twelve months. This season will be propitious for brewing rhubarb wine.

Europe will remain on the brink of war during the spring and into the summer. A man who bet me $10 that Gerry McGeer would not be elected may be expected to pay the bet about this time. A strawberry crop in June is indicated. This season will be propitious for fishing in the Cariboo and for refusing to buy stock in the Golden Gate mine. There will be fewer lead jokes about Max West. There will be no more Canadian knights. Government liquor sales will increase.

ECONOMICS

POLITICS in the United States will be active in the summer months with a strong feeling of optimism concerning the future, and economic conditions will be so much improved that the taxpayers will almost forget that they are still maintaining 20,000,000 unemployed, but not quite; and politicians seeking election on a programme of balancing the budget will forget to point out that it will be necessary to keep on increasing the national debt year after year indefinitely to pay the debt. Midsummer will be propitious for brewing loganberry wine. Europe will be on the brink of war. Ethiopia will be troubled. We shall all be troubled about the choice of summer holidays. This season will be propitious for divorce in Hollywood.

BEER

THERE WILL BE hot weather in August and business in Esquimalt will boom while Victoria, with a fine Victorian hypocrisy, still imagines that it has no beer parlors. This will be a propitious season for seeing sea serpents off Oak Bay, but such reports will be treated with growing scepticism in the press. Europe will be on the brink of war. All the nations will agree that Italy must be stopped. Italy will keep on going toward disaster, and everything will be done in the great capitals to save Mussolini's regime from collapse lest the revolutionary ideas spread. Japan will control all China. About this time some of the great powers will arrange a large loan to Italy to pay for its attack on Ethiopia.

SIDE GLANCES

By George Clark

He's my daughter's youngest. We used to be a pair, but I've sort of stopped going around till things break a little better."

opia and to save Italy from insurrection. Experts will warn that stock prices are too high and that credit is over-expanded. Stocks will soar upward. This will be a propitious time not to bet on horses at the Willows, and everybody will do so. Mr. Posey and others will report large profits. No one will report any losses.

PROFITS

ABOUT THIS TIME stockholders of the Golden Calf will learn from the best engineering authorities that if they will invest just a few more thousands it is quite possible that some ore will be discovered, since the mountains of British Columbia are of substantial size and you never know what may lie on the other side of them. The stockholders will fall for it as usual. The tourist business in British Columbia will boom. Greta Garbo will remain unmarried. So will Messrs. King and Bennett.

In the autumn all the indices of business will be up and experts will state that recovery has occurred. An examination of the list of persons on the dole will show that they have not decreased visibly in the previous year, but no one will make an examination so that will be quite all right.

The American nation will unite against the New Deal and President Roosevelt will be re-elected. Europe will be on the brink of war. Opposition Leader Bennett and Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen will see what Canada is doing to carry out its responsibilities in Europe and as a member of the League. Nobody will answer them. Japan, having taken all China will begin to look toward this coast. A careful check-up will reveal that British Columbia did a record tourist business during the summer and that British Columbians spent about $10,000,000 more in the United States than Americans spent here. Foreign trade will reach a new high level. Smoky, the dog next door, will now cover an acre of ground and weigh twenty tons.

Salmon will run to Goldstream. Smoky will run to fat. Mayor Leeming will run again for the mayoralty. All will get there.

Government liquor stores will do a record business at Christmas and New Year's and a million-dollar headache will be regarded officially as a healthy economic index and a sign that conditions are improving and that public confidence is restored.

The year will end in a daze on December 31 and a new one, of exactly the same sort, will begin on the following morning with high public expectations.

Other People's Views

PROFESSOR COLE REPLIES

To the Editor:—Mr. Jull recently in your paper attributed to distinguished professor of economics at Oxford, G. H. D. Cole, views which I was convinced he did not hold.

I therefore wrote to him thereon and have now received his reply. Professor Cole states: "I am not in the least 'ashamed' of Galtkell's chapter in the book I edited. 'My Economic Planning' denies the possibility of 'Social Dividends' in any advanced form except on the basis of socialized control of production, and advocates them only as part of a Socialist system."

"My views on Douglasism are set out in two articles in this and last year's issues of The New English Weekly."

REFUTATION

To the Editor:—With reference to replies to my letter of December 11 by Messrs. S. J. Roberts and J. Duff, they are beside the point, which is, that the Ontario government repudiated the power contracts. These contracts, entered into by the late government, I admit turned out badly for Ontario, but they would not, I take it, have been entered into if, at the time, it had not looked like good business. The depression came, as we all know, but that was through no fault of the power companies.

Now let us consider, on the other hand, what would have happened if this contract had turned out as it was expected to and been very good business for Ontario and the power (Turn to Page 17, Col. 3)

Schools Health Officer Retires on Account of Ill-health

Retirement of Dr. David Donald, medical health officer for city schools for the last thirteen years, has been announced at the school board office.

Dr. Donald is retiring on account of ill-health, which necessitated his withdrawal from his work six months ago on temporary leave in the hope of recovering.

During his absence, Dr. A. G. Price, former city medical health officer, has been acting and will continue to do so until the post is filled.

Dr. Donald came to Victoria in 1910 with a wide experience in the medical field and after being in private practice here until 1914, he joined the school board staff after the war.

He was educated in Scotland and England and served with the British government in Africa. During this period he made an extensive study of contagious diseases. On his return to England he became school doctor for the city of Aldershot.

Four years after starting in private practice here, Dr. Donald enlisted with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, serving in France until the Armistice.

On his return to the province Dr. Donald was made assistant director of medical service in British Columbia for the Canadian militia, later receiving his school board appointment in 1922.

WALKER WILL RUN AGAIN

Aldermen Goivando and Dady Also Seeking Re-election at Ladysmith

Ladysmith, Jan. 3.—Mayor W. W. Walker will run for mayoralty honors again this year he made it known at the meeting of the council this week.

Aldermen J. D. Goivando and A. Dady, the other retiring members of the council, will also seek re-election.

The council authorized the holding of a plebiscite on Ladysmith's participation in the union library plan for Vancouver Island. The plebiscite will affect the known as the Ladysmith school district and the further authority to include those in the area outside of the municipal area, will be sought by order-in-council.

Satisfactory reports of the year's activities were presented by the fire warden, cemetery and electric light committees.

An interim report on the costs of all-night street lighting disclosed that over a twelve-month period at present average of price and consumption, the cost would be over $1,000 while only $600 had been provided for the last year.

Mayor Walker pointed out that the off-peak consumption of current by street lighting should materially reduce the average cost per kilowatt, and the figures submitted could not be regarded as conclusive until this was taken into consideration.

The report was laid on the table for further investigation and a recommendation was passed that the city electrician submit a plan for the progressive improvement of the street lighting circuit over a period of years.

Alderman Joyce reported total number of fires for the year was nine, with damage estimated at $90.

GUARANTEE ON BONDS SOUGHT

The sixth demand for payment of the 7 per cent guarantee on its $500,000 debenture issue has been made by the city to the Victoria Cold Storage and Terminal Warehouse Limited.

The demand was enclosed with the company's annual financial statement which disclosed a deficit and now brings the total amount sought from the city up to $210,000.

For the last five years the city has refused to pay this guarantee as it undertook to do when the by-law was passed. The refusal has been based on the contention the company has not fulfilled its part of the agreement.

FIRE LOSSES ARE REDUCED

A reduction of $4,227 in fire losses last year, compared with 1934, was reported by Chief Alex Munroe in his annual report of property damage by fire in the city during the last twelve months.

The loss was cut from $102,921 in 1934, to $98,694 in 1935. This loss represents only a fraction of 1 per cent of the total assessed value of improvements in the city.

Gold Leads Again In Mines Recovery

Production in 1935 in B.C. Hits New High of Over $14,000,000; Mineral Production Gains 12.7 Per Cent Over 1934

Gold recoveries in British Columbia during 1935 were worth $14,261,198, a new all-time record and an increase of $3,295,782 over 1934, revised estimates made public by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines, today indicate.

For the second year in succession gold was British Columbia's chief producer of mineral wealth, exceeding the value of lead by over $4,000,000.

Lead production was worth $10,206,000, an increase of $1,744,141 over the previous year.

Zinc, the next in line, was worth $7,862,000, a gain of $315,507.

Silver, the fourth most valuable, shot up $1,478,267 to $5,547,059, combining increased output with higher prices.

Total production for all minerals is now placed at $47,807,157, an increase of 12.7 per cent over 1934.

All metal prices were better last year. The averages, with the 1934 average in brackets, are as follows: Gold, per ounce, $35.18 ($34.50); silver, per ounce, $62.72 ($47.61); copper, per lb., 7.8c (7.4c); lead, per lb., 3.15c (2.43c); zinc, per lb., 3.12c (3.04c).

More Gold But Stocks No Higher

Canadian Mines Produce More Metal Than 1934, But Quotations at Toronto Are the Same; Base Metals and Silver Advance

By ALEX. PRINGLE
Canadian Press Financial Writer

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Although Canadian gold mines produced more metal in the year just closed than ever before in history, prices of gold stocks in the average are no higher now than they were a year ago.

The explanation for the lack of corresponding market action can possibly be traced to the rise of March and July, 1934, which no doubt discounted improvement too far ahead. Base metals and silver, however, have had a year of very good markets, and the base metals are closing the period with a substantial advance intact.

From the viewpoint of the broker, the sharp rise of silver in April, to a level unknown in nine years, stimulated heavy trading in the white metal issues, but when the metal advance halted just above 80 cents and thereafter weakened, prices of the silver shares slipped back quietly through the summer. When the silver crash came in December it found prices of the silver stocks already well deflated and almost impervious to further shock. The group recorded net price losses for the year and no worthwhile gains.

November and December heavy action for the base metal stocks was partly traceable to the active buying of International Nickel from London and New York on the Toronto industrial section. Domestic listings allied with copper, lead and zinc fell into line and they were mainly responsible for the advance of the miscellaneous mines index of the Toronto Exchange from around 86.00 at the beginning of the year to around 118.00 in late December, a gain of 35 per cent. The gold share index achieved a rise of less than 2 per cent.

CITIES JOIN IN PUBLICITY

Northwest Group May Increase Amount For Tourist Advertising

Directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at a meeting held yesterday afternoon decided to again participate in the community advertising campaign of the Pacific Northwest Evergreen Playground Association.

Mayor David Leeming, who is president of the association, Harold Hubbard, president of the bureau and George I. Warren, commissioner, will attend the meeting of the association in Seattle to-morrow.

As the cities participating in the campaign may increase their contributions so that the extent of the campaign for next summer's tourists may be increased, the bureau may also increase its allocation from $1,500 to $2,000.

The need for more funds for the bureau was referred to by Mayor Leeming, who suggested the directors ask the provincial government to increase its grant.

Pressing their efforts for the preservation of the natural beauty of the scenery at different points along the Island Highway, the directors decided to again approach the provincial government seeking assurance that Cathedral Grove would not be demolished, reports having been made that plans are being made for it to be logged off.

The Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island will be asked to join in the request.

The bureau will join with the Automobile Club in pointing out to the City Council the need for adequate street signs in Victoria. A number of tourists have pointed out that the present inadequate signs make it difficult for strangers to find their ways around.

A letter was read from Mayor H. F. Prevost of Duncan thanking the bureau for the work it had done in 1935 for the whole of the island, and especially for Duncan.

The bureau will continue to press the Canadian Radio Commission for a broadcasting unit in this city. No mention was made of Victoria in the New Year coast-to-coast broadcast of the Canadian Radio Commission.

DIVIDENDS UP TO NEW HIGHS

Canadian Total Increases $30,000,000 in Year, Best Since 1930

Toronto, Jan. 3.—Dividend distributions by Canadian corporations to their stockholders in December set a new high record for any one month in history, exceeding the previous peak established in June last by almost $10,000,000.

Improved conditions throughout 1935 are reflected in total dividends paid during the current year by an increase of $30,000,000 compared with 1934, and an increase of $84,000,000 contrasted with 1933.

Payments for the month of December, as reported to E. A. Pierce and Exchange members New York Stock Company, members Toronto Stock Exchange, of $65,485,094, compare with $47,407,562 and $22,564,583, respectively, for similar months of 1934 and 1933. The previous high mark for any one month was that of $55,054,508 established in June last.

For the first time in four years, total dividends for the twelve months of 1935 exceeded $200,000,000 at $235,028,329. Indicative of betterment in general conditions throughout the Dominion, dividend disbursements for 1935 were only exceeded by those of 1930 when total distributions reached a peak of $222,395,094.

Oil companies contributed largely to the new high record for disbursements established in the current month. Bonus and regular dividend by Imperial Oil amounted to $16,824,741, similar disbursements by International Petroleum to $17,905,110 and by Andian National to $5,100,000.

Royalite Oil, subsidiary of Imperial, in addition to the regular dividend of 30 cents paid a bonus of 25 cents a share, and McCoil Frontenac Oil made the usual distribution on the company's outstanding common stock.

Favorable dividend action for the month far outweighed unfavorable practically the only omission from the list is the disbursement by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, while approximately twenty corporations made payment of bonuses, increased rates of dividends, initial distributions, or payments on account of arrears.

Industrial companies to distribute extras during the month included Andian National Corporation, Canada Maltng Company, Imperial Oil, International Petroleum, Royalite Oil Company, Canada and Dominion Sugar, and Canadian Industries. Canada Bud Breweries paid an interim dividend of 20 cents a share, Melchers Distilleries Limited the first disbursement since December, 1934, and Acadia Sugar Refining, Great Lakes Company, Lake of the Woods Milling, and New Method Laundry made payments on account of arrears of preferred dividends.

Mining companies were larger contributors to the month's total. Bonus of 44 and regular dividend of 61.25 a share by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada was the largest distribution by this company in years. International Nickel increased the quarterly rate of dividend from 30 to 35 cents, and extras were paid by Heilinger Consolidated, International Mining and Lake Shore.

McWaters, Gold made an initial distribution on the company's outstanding stock of 5 cents per share.

Under the most unfavorable weather conditions, the annual Y.M.C.A. road race was held yesterday morning, with George Dickinson, last year's winner, again the first to breast the tape.

When the Berkeley boys departed for their home last night they took with them the Cooper-Kelch Cup, emblematic of the rugby championship of the Pacific Coast. They were winners by the narrow margin of three points in three games, having won one game and drawn two.

MURPHY WINS SPRINT RACE

Mrs. Ethel Mars's Colt Captures Feature at Santa Anita Track

Los Angeles, Jan. 3.—Murphy, a colt Mrs. Ethel V. Mars, Chicago, bought last year in the annual Saratoga sales, won the Santa Anita feature race yesterday, a three furlong sprint for juveniles.

Murphy, a black gelding, stuck his nose in front like a bullet at the start, led all the way, was never threatened by any in the field of thirty, and finished in thirty-four seconds flat. The margin was two lengths.

Second was Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Tall Oak, a nose in front of Cleveland's Ready Teddy. Also ran was Norman Church's Dank Schon.

SEASON BEST IN FIVE YEARS

Dun and Bradstreet Reports Holiday Business Largest in Every Line

New York, Jan. 2.—The unexpected rush of late Christmas buying, augmented by the abrupt rise in sales of winter merchandise, as the cold wave spread across the country, enabled the majority of retailers to end the year with a satisfactory holiday season in five years. Wholesale markets were somewhat quieter than during the week preceding, the bulk of the volume depending on the acquisition of merchandise for January promotional events. While the holiday interruption lowered the total of industrial production, the average of daily operations was undiminished.

Deviations from previous levels were not wide in the leading industrial indices. Although the gain in electric output for the week was 0.9 per cent, it carried the total above 2,000,000,000 k.w.h. for the first time in the industry's history, establishing a new high. The spread over 1934 was narrowed to 12 per cent, but the peak that had held since December, 1929, was surpassed for the twelfth successive week. Production of bituminous coal decreased 0.5 per cent, but was 0.6 per cent larger than in the 1934 week. Reduced by 19,000 barrels, the daily average gross production of crude oil was only 309,830 barrels above the quota.

A dip of 5.1 points lowered steel operations to 49.3 per cent of capacity, due to the holiday observance, which compared with a rate of 33.2 per cent in the 1934 week. For the second successive week freight car loadings declined, but for the twelfth straight time were ahead of last year's. Lumber production and shipments were about the same as the week previous, but mill orders rose 5 per cent, exceeding output by 1 per cent. Passing the 100,000-unit mark for the first time since May, a new December record for automobile production practically is assured; in the corresponding 1934 week 34,697 units were turned out.

buoyed by the swelling volume of Christmas buying, bank clearings were 15 per cent larger than the comparative 1934 aggregate; a week earlier the gain was only 1.5 per cent. Commercial failures dropped 11.3 per cent from the previous week's number and were fewer by 1.8 per cent than last year. The Food Index was unchanged at $2.77, but was slightly below the five-year high reached two weeks ago, and 9.9 per cent above its 1934 position.

HOLIDAY ESTIMATES EXCEEDED
The distribution of bonuses, double salary cheques, unexpected bank pay-offs, and the heaviest holiday travel in years brought a freedom of Christmas spending that has been unmatched since 1930, the volume of retail sales exceeding the totals for the comparative periods of the years intervening. Individual purchases were larger this season, charge accounts were used more generously, and cash sales increased. Many stores reported sell-outs of toys, sporting goods, jewelry, stationery, handbags, and some toiletries before the shopping period closed. Demand spread to nearly all departments in its inclusiveness, with some items almost dormant since 1930 sought insistently. The cumulative force of last minute Christmas buying and the covering of cold weather needs, as temperatures dropped and snow prevailed, pushed retail sales over the previous

AT THE FIRST SIGN OF A COLD

Take GROVE'S BROMO QUININE

It is much easier to prevent a cold than to stop one. Even a slight cold can take hold quickly and develop seriously. When you are threatened with a cold, the wise thing to do is to treat it promptly for what it is—latent infection. Grove's Bromo Quinine does the four necessary things to attack and rid the system of cold.

1. It opens the bowels gently but effectively.
2. It combats the cold germs and fever in the system.
3. It relieves the headache and "stiff" feeling.
4. It tones up the system and helps fortify against further attacks.

This is the kind of treatment a cold requires to drive it right out of the system quickly and effectively.

Your druggist has Grove's. Keep a box handy at all times and at the first sign of a chill or sneeze take them as prescribed. Be sure to ask for Grove's Bromo Quinine, however, when you purchase.

LOSES BY FALSECARDING

Analysis of Play Shows That Drop of High Card by Declarer Would Cost Him His Contract

By WM. E. MCKENNEY
In the December issue of the Bridge Magazine, Mr. McKenney describes an interesting phase of false-carding. There is no doubt that false-carding is an art in itself, but here is a case where it would definitely cost you your contract.

Today's Contract Problem

It looks as though West should be able to defeat South's three no trump contract. But it takes unusually fine defensive play to do so.

that East cannot have more than a doubleton club. If East holds the three and dealer of clubs, why is South false-carding?

If South held the singleton Jack, East's proper play would have been the deuce. With this information, all West had to do was to cash his ace of clubs and give his partner a ruff, thereby defeating the contract.

If South played the deuce of clubs, there is a possibility that West would be afraid to continue clubs and would shift to a diamond, in which case dealer could make his contract.

holiday quotas set. From a week earlier volume expanded 10 to 30 per cent, while the comparative 1934 total was exceeded by an estimated range of 12 to 25 per cent. The rate of gain was slower in the New England States, but sales were up 8 to 15 per cent from a year ago. The jam of shoppers at some of the large centres of the east, added to the continued expansion at the small cities, lifted volume for the district by 10 to 15 per cent.

The high rate of industrial activity in the middle west accounted for larger gains than in most districts, the increase in sales over the 1934 week amounting to 12 to 20 per cent. Subzero weather and snow kept movement of staples nearly on a par with holiday goods in the northwest, where the increase ranged from 10 to 30 per cent. With tourist traffic helping, volume for the south was ahead of last year's by 25 to 30 per cent, while in the southwest the rise was 15 to 25 per cent. The surge of buying during the two final days of Christmas shopping carried volume for the Pacific Coast 15 to 38 per cent over 1934.

WHOLESALE BUYING STEADIER
Wholesale trades revealed less than the usual late December decline, but volume of orders was smaller than for the week preceding, although running well ahead of last year's showing. Urgent requests for holiday items continued heavy right up to the day before Christmas, but many orders could not be shipped because of depleted stocks. Lean inventories brought hurried trips to the leading markets to obtain merchandise for after-Christmas sales promotions. In many instances, the desired articles were not available at early December prices, which will obviate any wide reductions from current selling prices to clear the few remaining stocks of staple and seasonal goods.

Some retailers have abandoned plans for clearance sales of house-furnishings, radios, furniture, floor-coverings, linens, draperies, and electrical appliances, in view of the strength of the demand and the absence of distress stocks on the market. Rush orders for blankets, gloves, men's overcoats, sweaters, and general apparel suitable for the cold weather rose as temperatures dropped in most parts of the country. Requests were numerous for men's furnishings and sports outfits, while shoe volume expanded further, and there was an abrupt pick-up in orders for rubber footwear, winter hardware, skates and skis.

In the women's apparel division, dresses were sought, evening gowns moved out actively, and buying of winter resort and cruise wear was extended. Fur coats and muff-bags were ordered for immediate selling and January delivery. Early inquiries for spring coats were encouraging, and indicated an unusual preference for sports models. Grocery orders were larger than the previous week, but movement of canned goods failed to increase and dried fruits generally were steady. As Christmas sales reduced stocks sharply, retailers of liquors were forced to lay in fresh supplies for New Year's celebrations.

FEW FACTORIES CURTAILING
While the holiday interruption caused a small decline in industrial activity from that of the week preceding, the wide margin of increase over the 1934 level was maintained, both reports indicating that the usual between-season lull in industry will be short. Manufacturers of tractors, refrigerators, washing machines, radios, and shoes did not extend holiday closings, while producers of heavy chemicals, drugs, fertilizers, tobacco products, and their operating rates. Most of the typewriter plants continued to run at capacity, while furniture manufacturers added to their forces, in preparation of the best January market in years.

Most of the automobile plants closed for only one day, in an endeavor to hold production above 100,000 units for the week. Above 1935 production for the United States and Canada will run to more than 4,200,000 units, exceeding all annual totals since 1929, output for January has been set at 350,000 units. Sales of Christmas gift automobiles were so large in some districts that dealers had no stocks from which to make deliveries. Many of the steel mills, on the other hand, closed down in full or in part to make repairs to machinery and to take inventories. A strong rebound in operations is expected, as makers of sheets are booked four to six weeks ahead.

Although production for the current year was the largest since 1930, manufacturers of farm equipment plan to advance schedules fully 25 per cent for the opening quarter of 1936. Operations of general industrial machinery makers have been consistently better than those of a year ago, with some running as much as 50 per cent higher. The present backlog of orders will keep most of the wool manufacturers close to capacity schedules during the first quarter of next year. While improvement has been slow with cotton goods mills, the steady reduction of inventories will permit the busy spring season to be entered in a favorable position.

The FLIRTING FANTAIL

Strange as you may feel in India, New Zealand, or Australia, it would not be long before you would be made to feel at home by a small swallow-like bird with a colorful fan-shaped tail. This is the flirtings, fly-catching "fantail".

Out of curiosity, the bird will follow a stranger. It hops from tree to tree and spreads its strange tail of loose feathers in its flight.

Insects, especially flies, form its food, and for this it invades even homes.

New Zealand shows this bird on one of its latest stamps. In the background is the native clematis, one of the best-known flowers of the New Zealand bush, where the fantail is most at home. The Miori, native of New Zealand, believed that clematis or pua-Waianga was the offspring of the two bright stars, Sirius and Rigel.

In the early spring this brilliant white flower loops itself from tree to tree and lights up the edge of the bush at night.

CONSCRIPTION IN AUSTRIA SOON

Havas News Agency
Vienna, Jan. 2.—Inspired by German rearmament, Austria expects to introduce universal military service as soon as sufficient funds are available, it has been learned on good authority.

Expected opposition from the Little Entente will be ignored, and Britain and France are expected to give their tacit consent.

This will not mean so great a strain on the budget as might at first appear, it was pointed out. The expense of maintaining separate work-relief and semi-military organizations will be wiped out at one stroke. The cost of equipping the new recruits will be met by a military tax such as exists in Switzerland.

SENDS PICTURE FOR CHAPTER

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter have received a beautiful framed picture of the famous Taj Mahal in India from a former Echoes secretary of the chapter, now residing in Surrey, England, Mrs. E. C. Hayward, formerly of Oak Bay. About two years ago Mrs. Hayward addressed the pupils of the Sir James Douglas School on her tour of India and it is to commemorate this incident and to form a link between Victoria and the donor that the gift has been gratefully received by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, which will in due time present it to the school as Mrs. Hayward has requested.

To give the members attending yesterday's meeting of the chapter a better understanding of the Taj Mahal and its significance, Mrs. Hayward, the present educational secretary, read a very interesting article explaining the story of its building and history and thanked the members sincerely for this most interesting account.

Mrs. Otis Cummins, the regent was unanimously voted again by acclamation into office for the coming year. All the other officers were similarly voted into office with the exception of one, Mrs. R. B. McKinnon, who was elected by acclamation.

The executive meeting of the receiving of the officers' annual reports will be held at the home of Miss Greene, Port Street, on January 30 at 8 o'clock.

The annual meeting of the chapter is scheduled for February 6 at 8:30 o'clock at headquarters. The educational secretary reported that fifty calendars had been sold and still others were asked for at this meeting. Ten were given to the Red Cross Workshop, soldiers' organization, headquarters and public offices. Two were sent to each of the following schools: Sir James Douglas, Burnside, Lake Cowichan, Murchie, Attache, Crofton Station and Port Clements.

MISS WIGLEY PASSES AWAY

Had Been Resident of City
Thirty-eight Years; Interested in Welfare Work

One of Victoria's best-known women passed to rest yesterday in the death of Miss Mary Ann (Nay) Wigley, who succumbed at the Bedford Nursing Home, Richardson Street, where she had been a patient for some weeks. Born in Brampton, Ontario, Miss Wigley was a daughter of the late Arthur Benjamin Wigley, formerly of Uxbridge, Ontario, and Anna Lynch, a daughter of Judge Lynch of Brampton. She came to Victoria thirty-eight years ago, and for many years was a prominent member of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, in which she had held practically every office, including the presidency. She was instrumental in organizing the Women's Workroom. This humanitarian work made a strong appeal to her generous sympathies, and she worked unceasingly in its interests as convener of the finance committee, and had just been elected its president, when stricken by illness.

But it was for her service to the community that Miss Wigley was most widely known and respected. As a charter member of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, in which she had held practically every office, including the presidency, she was instrumental in organizing the Women's Workroom. This humanitarian work made a strong appeal to her generous sympathies, and she worked unceasingly in its interests as convener of the finance committee, and had just been elected its president, when stricken by illness.

The Girl Guide movement also found in her a staunch friend, and she was president of the local association until a few months ago. For some years she was a member of the Gonzales Chapter I.O.D.E., while any claims to the interests of the women in particular and the community in general found in her a generous supporter.

The success of the international convention held here by the business and professional women's clubs in July was largely attributable to her executive ability, she having been the general convener, and special tribute was paid to her by the visitors in their acknowledgements of Victoria's hospitality.

Miss Wigley is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. E. D. Drummond of Seattle, two half-sisters and six half-brothers in the eastern States and cousins in Victoria.

The funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon, the cortege leaving the family residence, Fairfield Road, at 2:15 o'clock, and proceeding to St. John's Church, where Canon P. A. P. Chadwick will officiate at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the family plot in Rose Bay Cemetery. It is requested that no flowers be sent.

The funeral arrangements are in the hands of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel.

MAYOR'S TRIBUTE

Warm tribute to Miss Wigley's work in the community was paid by Mayor Leeming this morning.

"It is with deep regret that I heard of the death of Miss Wigley," the Mayor said. "She was indefatigable in her work of caring for underprivileged women, and her services to the community will be greatly missed. The women's workroom, in which she was particularly interested, has undoubtedly been of great benefit to some of those women whose incomes have been reduced by the depression, and her efforts will be greatly missed by them. We can ill-afford to lose persons of this stamp in our city."

Y.P.S. WILL HOLD SUPPER MEETING

The first meeting of the new year of the First United Y.P.S. will take the form of a supper meeting on Monday, January 6, at 8:30 o'clock. Ken Simpson, the new president, urges a full attendance of members as there are a number of important topics to discuss. After the supper meeting a full programme has been arranged. All young people welcome.

Sunshine Inn

One of the jolliest Christmas parties ever held by the Native Sons and Daughters of B.C. Posts No. 1 and No. 3 took place on Monday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street. About 100 guests were entertained, and each guest brought some article of canned goods, as a result of which two large packing cases were filled, and were later delivered to the Sunshine Inn.

The first part of the evening was devoted to games and contests, which caused much amusement. Then an "amateur hour" was sponsored by the members. Mr. Lawrie Westendale being the able announcer, Miss M. Fred Chiswick made a splendid "Madame Bovary" with her witty remarks and question to each performer, each of whom was received with great applause from the audience, while some received the gong as well. Miss A. Thain was the accompanist for the evening and also supplied the music for the dancing, which followed.

A delicious buffet supper was served by the committee in charge of the arrangements, Miss Lillian Smithurst, Miss Molly Turner, Miss Pat Petherbridge, Mrs. H. B. Bargison, Mr. F. Waller and Mr. Alex. Hutchison. After supper dancing was resumed until all present joined in the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," which brought a most enjoyable gathering to a close.

Weddings

ROGERS-MOORE

At a quiet ceremony at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., on Wednesday evening, January 1, Wilma Maye (Billy) Moore, third daughter of late W. W. Moore and Mrs. Moore of 1266 Balmoral Road, became the bride of Mr. Bernard T. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Rogers, Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay.

After the ceremony an informal reception, attended only by immediate relatives of the young couple, was held. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers left on the midnight boat for the mainland en route for Nelson, B.C., where they will make their home.

ARCHER-LEADER

St. Alban's Anglican Church, Port Alberni, was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns for the wedding on New Year's morning at 9 o'clock of Ena Marjorie Leader, only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edward Leader and grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Humphries, to Mr. Frederick Archer, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Harris of Port Alberni. To the strains of the Bridal Chorus played by Mr. R. G. Martlew, the bride entered the church on the arm of her grandfather, Mr. J. Humphries, who gave her in marriage. Rev. Glen Stevenson performed the ceremony and the bridegroom was supported by Mr. Len Robinson as best man, while acting as ushers were Mr. Dick Hilton and Mr. Eddie Ramsay.

The bride chose a lovely gown of ivory satin, fashioned on long lines, with corse and long sleeves of Chantilly lace, frilled at elbow with satin, the cowl neckline ornamented with diamond clasps. The embroidered veil hung from a tiara of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ferns. Miss Ada Mosher was the bridesmaid, gowned in hyacinth blue georgette, with cowl neckline and draped full sleeves. Her turban hat was in harmonizing tones and she carried a shower bouquet of white flowers. The bridesmaids wore smart gowns of black dunslea crepe with guipure lace sleeves, while Mrs. Harris's gown was marine-blue tulle, relieved with delft blue collar, and sleeves lined with the blue tones. Miss Lillian Farnsworth and Miss Barbara Griffith assisted in serving in the tearoom, where the three-tiered wedding cake centred the table, arranged with pink carnations and pink tapers in silver scones.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer left later for Victoria and Vancouver, the bride traveling in a navy blue floral patterned frock, over which she wore a navy topcoat, with sable fur collar and blue accessories. On her return, they will take up residence in their recently-erected home at Strathene Street, Port Alberni.

Following the service, a reception was held at the residence of the bride's grandparents, the rooms being effectively decorated with streamers of pink and white, Canterbury bells and white chrysanthemums. Mrs. J. Humphries and Mrs. C. A. Harris received with the young couple. Mrs. Humphries wore smart gown of black dunslea crepe with guipure lace sleeves, while Mrs. Harris's gown was marine-blue tulle, relieved with delft blue collar, and sleeves lined with the blue tones. Miss Lillian Farnsworth and Miss Barbara Griffith assisted in serving in the tearoom, where the three-tiered wedding cake centred the table, arranged with pink carnations and pink tapers in silver scones.

The Truth About Diet

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Your body contains 60 to 70 per cent water. It loses anywhere from one to five quarts every day. If you have a job that makes you perspire, you may have a "water turnover" as much as four gallons a day.

The water you drink makes up 90 per cent of the fluid part of your blood. It carries the essential food substances throughout the body, as well as the materials that are to be eliminated.

You may be able to go forty days or more without food, but you can go only four or five days without water. The old poem which began, "Pure water is the best of drinks," turned out to be one of the truest statements known to physiologists and hygienists.

Water is the universal solvent. Not one of the chemical changes that occur in the cells would take place without water.

Incidentally, the proportion of water in man's body is greater at birth than at middle age. Six months before its birth an infant is composed of 94 per cent water; at birth this content has decreased to 69 per cent.

When a man is twenty years old, the water in his body constitutes 62 per cent, but when he is seventy, the amount has diminished to 58 per cent.

Some of our tissues contain more water than others. Your brain has 79 per cent water, your kidneys 83 per cent, your liver 70 per cent and your muscles 75 per cent.

Moreover, different foods vary in the amount of water they contain. The cucumber, tomato, or watermelon will run as high as 90 to 95 per cent of water content. An egg has 65 per cent, meat 75 per cent, fish 80 per cent and milk 87 per cent.

The water we take into our bodies seems to be one-fourth from drinking water and the remainder from coffee, milk, or soups and the water content in solid foods.

Water is eliminated from the body largely by the kidneys, but an almost equal amount is vaporized through the skin and by breathing, and about one-half as much eliminated by the bowel.

TO-DAY'S HEALTH QUESTION
Q.—What causes the jaw to slip out of joint, and what can be done to prevent it?

A.—Dislocation of the jaw almost always occurs on both sides and in a forward direction. Dislocation in other directions occurs only from great violence.

Dislocation is the result of either external violence, as in the pulling of teeth or in trying to force a large object into the mouth, or, much more commonly, of muscular action when the mouth is opened wide, as in yawning, laughing, coughing, or vomiting.

With some persons, in whom the socket of this joint is shallow, dislocation may occur easily. Such persons usually learn to reduce the dislocation themselves. In extreme cases, certain operations aid in prevention.

City Councillor

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 3.—Mrs. Adelaide Plumtre, wife of Canon H. P. Plumtre, was elected today to represent ward two on city council. She is the third woman ever to win an aldermanic seat in Toronto. She will be the only woman on the 1936 council, which has been without the feminine touch since 1923.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDER

Children tend to develop all kinds of temporary bad habits which annoy the parent. Children suck their thumbs, bump their heads, roll them about in dizzying fashion, such their tongues or lips, chew finger nails, eat plaster, dirt, sand and furs from their blankets. All of these habits drive a parent "crazy" trying to cure them.

The habit itself may have been started because the child's diet was poor. Or the child may have been lonely and companionless and forced to indulge in solitary pastimes.

WHAT TO DO?
It may be that the child has been nagged at and frustrated with "don't touch that, keep out of there, stop doing that,"—you know the way a parent can bound the busy, active child—until he discovered a way of amusing himself while the parent couldn't deny him.

Different treatment, obviously, needs to be accorded different situations and all children. But one bit of advice pertains alike to all parents and all children. Do not direct the child's attention to the habit. The parent's effort should be to help the child forget the habit. It can be done so long as the parent says irritably every time a thumb pops into a mouth, "Don't you know how silly that looks, stop it!"

PUNISHMENT FAILS
Parents, after using every known method of ending such habits, always discover for themselves how futile they have been. The habit goes right on, encouraged by punishment, shaming and frustration. Our leaflet, "Commonplace Nervous Habits," deals with specific ways of managing some of the above mentioned ones and may be had for a self-addressed and three-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Elder of the "Your Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

—But meanwhile, until the tedious indirect methods of treatment begin to show results, let the parent keep her eyes, her thoughts and her words to herself.

Number of motorcycles in world used on January 1, 1935, was estimated at 3,002,410 units, an increase of 9.1 per cent over the number recorded at the opening of the previous year.

REBUILDS FORTUNE

Mrs. Samuel S. Parker inspects some of her tile designs.

Miami, Fla.—Five years ago a Birmingham society leader, Mrs. Samuel Shirley Parker to-day makes her living here in what she claims is the only building specialty business founded by a woman.

Mrs. Parker gets up at 5 o'clock every morning, checks marble and slate shipments in the railway yards, designs terrazzo and pottery, and even lays tile when she has to.

Five years ago she entertained in her Birmingham mansion. Twice she was hostess to presidents of the United States.

Then the wheel of fortune turned. But she is coming back, Mrs. Parker predicted, as she prepared to ship carrels of marble chips to the naval air station at Pensacola.

The gentle hand of woman is taking a firmer grip on the tiller of the ship of state. Two women senators, two women members of the House of Commons and a gradual intrusion of women into municipal council chambers, Mrs. Frances Henderson is on the executive board of control of Hamilton, Ont. Six women are serving on public school boards throughout the Dominion.

"I'm going to sit and listen for a time. I realize I have to learn a thing or two," said Mrs. Adelaide Plumtre, newly-elected member of Toronto City Council, indicative of the spirit of women in this new work.

Clara Twidale of Niagara Falls, Olive Jane Whyte of Windsor, Mrs. Agnes Sharpe of Hamilton are the other Ontario women aldermen. Halam township near Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., welcomes Mrs. E. McKie and Mrs. George Hicks as township councillors.

Western women are just as determined to take part in the government of their cities. Mrs. Margaret McWilliams is an alderman of Winnipeg and Mrs. Rhoda Tennant an alderman in nearby Brandon. Mrs. H. D. Healy sits as alderman in Moose Jaw, Sask. Mrs. R. Wilkinson is alderman in Calgary, while twenty-five-year-old Margaret Craig is in her third year as alderman in Edmonton.

Women are without representation of their sex in municipal councils of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, British Columbia or the Yukon, but hold some offices on school boards.

Mrs. H. R. Stewart is a member of the Halifax School Board. In Ontario Mrs. W. Douglas has been elected to the school board of Webbwood, near Sault Ste. Marie. Mrs. Nellie Howard is on the Port Arthur School Board, and Mrs. Emily Carson is a member of Port Arthur's School Board. In the west, Amelia Turner and Mrs. D. A. Anderson have earned places on the school board of Calgary.

Veteran of aldermanic council and the school board, Mrs. Joseph Hanley is candidate for the mayoralty in Webbwood, Ont., and may be Canada's first woman mayor. Her opponent in the forthcoming election is a man, R. E. Streich.

Webbwood, Ont., Jan. 3.—Three women in this district near Sault Ste. Marie have been elected to municipal office by acclamation.

In Halton Township Mrs. E. McKie and Mrs. George Hicks have been returned to council by acclamation. In Webbwood Mrs. W. Douglas has been elected by acclamation to the school board.

—But meanwhile, until the tedious indirect methods of treatment begin to show results, let the parent keep her eyes, her thoughts and her words to herself.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—It paid one family in a Montreal suburb to have a visit from Sir Stork on New Year's Day. A contest sponsored by the Notre Dame de Grace Business Men's Association—the winner to be the first baby born in the year 1936—was presented with three pairs of silk stockings, an offer for a permanent wave from a beauty parlor and a reduction on a fur coat (if she should care to buy one).

Even the dad was not forgotten. He was provided with a dozen bottles of beer.

Gold Industry In Canada Reviewed

SIX Canadian gold producers had outputs in excess of 200,000 fine ounces of gold in 1934. It is revealed in the third edition of "Gold in Canada," a report issued by the Mines Branch, Department of Mines, Ottawa. Lake Shore Mines Limited topped the list with 22,800 ounces, and was followed in order by Hollinger, with 24,300 ounces; Noranda, with 248,000 ounces; McIntyre, with 239,100 ounces; Wright-Hargreaves, with 218,300 ounces; and Dome, with 206,200 ounces. Todd-Hughes was seventh, with an output of 167,400 ounces. Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company, a leading producer of copper and zinc, ranked next with 99,300 ounces. International Nickel was tenth, with 74,400 ounces. Altogether there were twenty-two properties with outputs in excess of 20,000 ounces, including in addition to those listed, Pioneer, Sisco, Beatrice, Sylvanite, Howey, Bralorne, Premier, Macassa, Conlaurem, San Antonio, Buffalo, Ankerite, Tournai and Kirkland Lake Gold.

The report by A. H. A. Robinson is an exhaustive account of Canada's gold industry, embracing descriptions, by provinces, of all the principal gold properties, their history, the nature and extent of their workings, and their output records. It contains statistical records of the gold production of Canada by provinces since 1858, and including 1934; of the production of new gold by sources in 1933 and 1934; of the number of active operators, operating plants or mines, capital employed, number of employees, salaries and wages, and cost of fuel and electricity for the years 1925 to 1933 inclusive; and of shipments from copper-gold-silver mines in Canada, 1933-1934.

striking success that its use soon became universal. In relation to the rarity of gold it is revealed that the world's entire production of the metal from the discovery of America to the end of 1933 could be cast into a cube of which the edge would measure only 40.136 feet.

The report includes key maps of gold-bearing areas in the larger gold-producing provinces, and is accompanied by a list of gold mines in Canada. Copies may be obtained from The Director, Mines Branch, Department of Mines, Ottawa.

PRAIRIE AREA IS GEOLOGIZED

IN ITS effort to aid mineral endeavor in southern Saskatchewan, the Bureau of Economic Geology, a few months ago, published an eight-mile-to-the-inch geological map sheet showing the locations of the principal mineral occurrences, with marginal notes on the general geology, and mineral resources. The Bureau has now issued a memoir (No. 176) designed to give a connected account of the geology of the large area, and to furnish information for the driller, geologist, and coal prospector. The memoir incorporates the results of field investigations carried out at various times by F. J. Fraser, F. H. McLearn, L. S. Russell, P. S. Warren and R. T. D. Wickenden. Some time ago, the bureau issued a report on the buff and white-burning clays of southern Saskatchewan. The area covered by the memoir comprises some 62,000 square miles, or most of that portion of Saskatchewan lying south of Saskatoon.

To drillers, chapters III, IV and V are of especial interest; and to clay-workers, the sections on the white-mud formation, cretaceous unconformity and Willowbush member in chapter III, and the short section on clay in chapter V and chapters VI and VII. Those interested in coal development are advised to read the section on the upper Ravenscrag in chapter III, and on coal in chapter IV. The eight-mile map sheet (No. 267A), and sections supplementing the map, accompany the memoir. Copies may be obtained from The Director, Bureau of Economic Geology, Department of Mines, Ottawa. Refiners employing modern equipment waste less than 1 per cent of the crude oil processed.

Sometimes worn bearings in the starting motor cause the armature to rub; this can be ascertained without removing the motor by holding a small piece of iron or steel against the outside of the housing while someone steps on the starter button. If the gauge is attracted to the housing, the armature is rubbing.

Eight Major Penalties As Maroons Whip Toronto Team

THE SPORTS MIRROR

MURRAY "MUZZ" PATRICK, Victoria's great athlete, has certainly been catching the fancy of the sports scribes in New York City, and in recent months has been grabbing off a lot of mighty fine publicity.

In a recent issue of The New York Post was carried a striking six-column picture of Patrick standing in his fighting trunks with arms outstretched. Interesting part of the photo is that Muzz is wearing a beautiful black eye, and the caption over the picture is: "Don't Laugh, at That Fanciful Fellow—It's a Badge of Honor." In the story accompanying the picture, written by Eddie Wade, Patrick is described as the successor to Lionel Conacher for the title of Canada's greatest all-around athlete. That shining mentioned above was handed out by Abe Feldman in a workout in a New York gym. As yet, no amateur has been able to blacken Muzz's eye or mark him up very much anywhere. In The New York Sun recently appeared a big layout by Hank Leonard, showing Muzz as a fighter and hockey player. The drawing is headed by the words: "A Good Mixer." Muzz appears to be going places in the big town.

They are talking of changing the hockey rules again in the interests of more scoring. The changes are a closely guarded secret. They emanated from Frank Patrick, who helped to bring in most of the old hockey changes except six-man hockey. His proposal is to make defencemen defensive, rather than with some of the new rules which will add more offensive hockey to the repertoire. There are some other ideas calculated to make hockey life a torment to the goal tenders.

With all due respect to the master minds of the N.H.L., who seem to be worrying over a problem that could be easily remedied by application of the present code, it does not appear that there is much need of change.

If all magnates would unite in a crusade against interference they would soon lower the defensive formations enough to bring a cargo of goals. If they put the obsolete anti-defence rule into action through the medium of referees, that would aid a lot more.

Make referees check up on holding, cross checking, shooting the puck into the crowd. Too many of them are simply looking for offside.

In addition to that cut the squads down. That will make more work for the others. It will also help to weed out the many hoary veterans who are hanging on because they are able to make a three-minute spurt every so often so that they make a fair enough presentation of efficiency. Their lack of speed would be very obvious if they had to double shifts.

While they are at it magnates could cut down the regular playing season. They could qualify their teams earlier, then go in for a more extensive playoff routine. In the meantime, if they are anxious to do some rule changing, why not give the rules at present in vogue a real chance. Particularly the rule governing holding.

Eleven Private Battles At One Time Witnessed

Eighty-six Minutes of Penalties as Montreal Club Takes Game 5 to 2

AMERICANS WIN FROM RANGERS

Maroons 5, Toronto 2. Americans 5, Rangers 3.

Montreal's mad Maroons and the larruping Leafs from Toronto bowed somewhat stiffly to-day as they accepted all the honors that go with the season's wildest hockey battling. They'll have to trot out Tommy guns to better the fistic extravaganza they staged yesterday evening in Montreal.

Hitting a new high in free-for-all warring, the bitter rivals in the National Hockey League fought through a riotous third period that saw four major and four misconduct penalties imposed.

While officials stood by helpless to untangle the punching, wrestling mass of high-priced hockey flesh, the teams climaxed their scrapping with a major slapping engagement that lasted five minutes.

Only the goalies and Dave Trotter, out with an injury that started it all, were missing from the brawl. Penalties totaling sixty-eight minutes were imposed in that period and eighty-six in the game. Leafs drew forty-eight minutes and Maroons thirty-eight.

"BIGGEST FIGHT" Someone counted eleven fights on the ice at one time. Lionel Conacher, widely experienced in such things, called it the "biggest" fight he ever saw in a hockey match. Incidentally, it was all a grand build-up for their return bout at Toronto-to-morrow night.

Maroons won the game 5 to 2. That score, the one at New York where Americans defeated Rangers 6 to 3, and the fighting spirit shown in the Leafs-Maroons encounter were effective answers to anyone who still thinks major league hockey is going too defensive and pink teash.

The martial Montrealers were leading 4 to 1 when the trouble started. Charlie Conacher knocked Trotter to the ice and although it looked accidental, blood gushed from a head wound and Conacher was handed a major.

FISTS START TO FLY Temper flared and fists flew a few minutes later when Red Horner, the league's leading badman, and Hooley Smith, now runner-up, tangled. They socked each other again on the way to the bench and misconduct penalties were tacked on their sentences.

Lionel Conacher and Bob Davidson clashed next, and when a fight started on the bench between the five of them it was the signal for a general outbreak. When the combatants had been separated the officials imposed misconduct on Lionel Conacher and Davidson as well.

Fighting honed went to no one, but Maroons had a good edge on the evening's play. Trotter, Russ Blinco and Baldy Northcott scored in the first period and Smith added another for Maroons in the second before Frankie Finnigan got Toronto's first goal and his last of the season.

While the teams were short-handed in the third, Northcott scored again and Buzz Boll added Toronto's second. Bill Thoms got an assist on one that gave him the league leadership in scoring points.

Sweeney Schriener, who started the season well but has not been scoring lately, was the hero of the game at Madison Square Garden, scoring a goal and three assists. Fourteen thousand persons saw Rangers go into the second period with a 2 to 1 lead built on goals by Cecil Dillon and Bun Cook in the opening session.

Chapman has scored for Americans in the first and when Mauger Red Dutton scored the score in the second, Bill Cook put Lester Patrick's team ahead again. From then on it was all Americans.

SCOTTISH TO MEET LEADERS

Battle Bays-Wanderers in Future Rugby Game To-morrow

Senior A rugby fifteens, will again take up play for the Bannard Cup to-morrow, after a half of two weeks, when four of the teams play in matches at MacDonald Park.

Intermediate squads have been given a week's rest, so there will be no games in that league to-morrow. A vastly-improved Canadian Scottish team will oppose the league-leading Bays-Wanderers squad on the lower field at the enclosure. The militiamen, who have been playing good steady ball all season, will be out in full force in an effort to down the leaders.

Garrison, second-place fifteens, will battle the Navy on the upper field. A keenly contested fight is expected before a winner is decided.

John Grant will handle the fixture on the lower grounds and C. E. Ley will referee the upper field match. The kick-offs for both encounters will be at 2:45 o'clock.

The line-ups follow:
Bays-Wanderers—Angus, Addison, Turgoose, McCannan, Usher, Symons, Brown, Petticrew, J. Osman, Drummond, Tobin, A. Briggs, P. Briggs, Moore and Burns.
Scottish—Colgate, Appleton, Carney, R. Knight, Fields, Alex Anderson, D. Stewart, Campbell, Pierce, Buckett, Acland, Banks, Thompson, Campbell-Forbes and Doull.

Hoop Squads To Open Play-offs

Sunday School Basketball League quintettes will open their play-off series to-morrow evening with three fixtures carded at the Y.M.C.A. gym. The curtain raiser at 7 o'clock will bring together Chinese Students and Y.M.C.A. in a junior encounter. New Method and Chinese Students, intermediate squads, will battle in the second game, and the final encounter will see St. Louis College meet Oak Bay in the intermediate open division.

HOCKEY TEAMS MEET TO-MORROW

With five games carded, two in the under eighteen and three in the under sixteen section, roller hockey squads in the Royal Juvenile Athletic Association Roller Hockey League will swing into action to-morrow afternoon.

Alex MacDonald, secretary, released the complete list of fixtures for to-morrow as follows:

UNDER EIGHTEEN

Brough Riders vs. Saanich Cougars, Stanley Avenue; referee, W. O'Connor. Wimpy's Capitals vs. Red Wings, Balmoral Road; referee, J. O'Connor.

UNDER SIXTEEN

Black Hawks vs. Rock Bay, Bank Street; referee, Fletcher. Aces vs. Oak Bay Lions, Clover Street; referee, O'Connell. Wolverines vs. Victoria West, Point Street; referee, Jennings. All games will commence at 2 o'clock.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

"ACRES OF DIAMONDS"—INSPIRATIONAL LECTURE BY RUSSELL H. CONWELL, FINANCER THE FOUNDING OF TEMPLE UNIVERSITY... CONWELL, FOUNDER AND FIRST PRESIDENT, DELIVERED THIS LECTURE 6000 TIMES TO 13,000,000 PEOPLE...

One of the strangest golf tees in the world is the sixteenth tee at the Idlewild Beach Golf Club, Long Island, New York, where players climb to the top of the clubhouse to tee off. A covering of dirt overlies the roof, and a good stand of grass grows on the roof top tee.

From an ancient theory in government comes the unique prohibition of native physicians in the tiny country of San Marino—only foreigners are licensed to practice. In ancient times it was believed by government officials that physicians had some unknown power to learn state secrets. They reasoned that natives would be more interested in learning these secrets than foreigners, therefore it would be safer to have foreign doctors than native ones.

Russell H. Conwell, founder of Temple University and president of it for thirty-seven years until his death in 1925, built his school on the proceeds of his lectures. His most famous was "Acres of Diamonds," an inspirational talk which he delivered 6,000 times in fifty years to audiences that totaled more than 13,000,000 people. He earned $6,000,000 from this and his other lectures, and with the money built and directed the famous university.

Strange as it seems, the badge of style in metropolitan areas has also been the badge of poverty in certain rural European districts. Peasant girls in Holland, Germany and some parts of France, have their hair bobbed so they can sell it to wig-makers. This practice, much more prevalent a few years ago than now, paid them well when women in style had to have additional strands of hair to supplement their natural hair. To-day the theatre and movies are the chief users of human hair wigs.

To-morrow: "The Outlaw Hero."

"FRENCHY" BELANGER, ONCE WORLD RING CHAMP, SERVES BEER TO TORONTO PATRONS

Former Idol of Fans in North America Rings Has Fallen on Evil Days as He Toils for $15 a Week; Sole Aim Is to Secure Himself Job in Northern Ontario Mines

Toronto, Jan. 3.—A former world boxing champion scurried around a Toronto east end beer parlor yesterday serving his tray of subs.

He's Albert "Frenchy" Belanger, who held the flyweight boxing title back in 1927 and is now a waiter at $15 a week.

The little fellow who pummeled the crown from Ernie Jarvis's head, losing it himself later to Frankie Genaro, wants a "real job" and he's ready to tackle anything.

"Frenchy" has his mind set on northern Ontario. He'll work underground in the mines, on the ground or in the air, so long as he gets a start and a chance to better himself. "There's a willingness and an eagerness about 'Frenchy's' determination 'to get somewhere.' Except for a slight hesitancy, he's the same poker-faced battler to-day, now twenty-nine years old, who pitter-pattered down the aisles with towel-draped head eight or nine years ago and climbed through the ropes as thousands screamed.

"Frenchy" weighs about 140, but glides among the gossiping beer customers with the same catlike tread and hunched shoulders that stalked his ring opponents.

JOB BIG THING

Albert hasn't fought since 1930 and has even thought of trying to get back an amateur card—something foreign to him for a decade or more—but right now the big thing is a worthwhile job.

SHIP OMAHA ON WEDNESDAY

U.S. Three-year-old Racing Champion Will Campaign in England

New York, Jan. 3.—Omaha, champion three-year-old of the United States in 1935, was scheduled definitely yesterday to sail next Wednesday for England in quest of the coveted Ascot Gold Cup, although his ailment remained as much a mystery as the day he was forced out of competition last August.

William Woodward, owner of the big chestnut colt, made the decision after Omaha had been brought here from the Belair Farm in Maryland and worked out at Aqueduct under the eye of Captain Boyda-Rochford, who will have charge of the champion in England.

Omaha went wrong while preparing for the Travers at Saratoga.

Melbourne, Australia, Jan. 3.—Victoria had made 310 runs for nine wickets when play closed to-day in the Sheffield Shield cricket match against South Australia. In the first two days' play the visitors hit 569 runs, featured by a brilliant 357 by Don Bradman, the second highest score of his career.

At Sydney, New South Wales, had obtained 278 for nine wickets in second innings play against Queensland. In their first turn at the wickets the home players made 363, Queensland replying with 344. Marks scored 201 for New South Wales in an innings marked by vicious hooking. He hit twenty-six fours.

U.B.C. Hoopers Lose to Yakima

Yakima, Wash., Jan. 3.—Limited to long shots through an airtight defence, the touring university of British Columbia basketball team bowed 40 to 24 here yesterday evening to the Yakima Y.M.C.A. five. The "Y" hoopers led 18 to 8 at the half. McCoy paced the winners with 13 points and Dettweiler led the Canadians with 8.

BILL MILLER IS RETURNING

Will Help Bench Coach of Montreal Maroons in Absence of Manager Gorman

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Montreal Maroons have recalled Bill Miller from New Haven where he has been on loan to aid in bench coaching until Tommy Gorman, manager, returns from Ottawa, where he is ill.

At first it was believed Gorman would be back for yesterday evening's game with Toronto Maple Leafs, but his attack of grippe will keep him away during the week-end, at least.

President Thomas Arnold guided the club yesterday evening, and will be assisted by Miller when Maroons play a return engagement with Leafs at Toronto to-morrow.

Miller, product of Moncton-Hawks Allan Cup squad, was loaned to New Haven to help the Canadian-American League team through a period of manpower shortage due to injuries. He played with the team yesterday evening but left immediately afterwards for Montreal.

TIGER DAULA EASY WINNER

Giant Indian Grappler Takes Two Straight Falls From John Freberg

Vancouver, Jan. 3.—Tiger Daula, massive Indian grappler, who arrived here Tuesday from Auckland, N.Z., inaugurated his return in the headline bout here yesterday evening with a decisive two-fall victory over John Freberg, Chicago.

Daula weighed 235 pounds and Freberg 228.

Daula made short work of the Chicagoan, taking the first fall after the bell for the first round with a body press, and ending the match in the second session with an airplane spin followed by a press. King Elliott, 210, Australia, and Casey Kazanjian, 218, San Francisco, went five rounds to a draw, each taking a fall. The Australian downed Kazanjian in the third round with a flying tackle but the American earned the draw in the fifth with a reverse flying tackle.

Joe March, 210, Chicago, took an odd-fall victory from Glen Stone, 215, Olympia, Wash., in another event.

Gene Labelle, 160, Montreal, and Mervin Barrackman, 170, Texas, went four rounds to a draw. There were no falls.

BIG SEVEN OF MAJOR HOCKEY

Canadian Press

An assist scored against Montreal Maroons shot Bill Thoms, Toronto Leaf centre, to the front in the National Hockey League scoring race to-day.

He now heads in total points with seventeen and in assists with ten, while Buzz Boll, his left wing, is tied with Paul Thompson, Chicago, for goal leadership. Each have scored ten.

Last Place Club Will Use Same Line-up That Defeated Leading Sunderland on Wednesday; Leaders Engage Manchester City at Main Road Pitch

London, Jan. 3.—An experiment adopted by Aston Villa at Sunderland on New Year's Day in its fight to get out of the cellar in the first division of the English Football League, was so successful that it is likely to be tried again to-morrow when the Villans entertain Portsmouth at Villa Park.

Inflicting the first defeat of the season on Sunderland at Roker Park, the Villans played Alex Massie, Scottish international right halfback, at inside right and the entire vanguard played with a spirit that has been lacking in recent weeks. Its display was regarded as a vindication of the management's enterprise.

Undeterred by the reverse Sunderland will field an unchanged team at Main Road where Manchester City provide the opposition. Middlesbrough has a fine chance to move up in the table against Preston North End.

Bradford who Wednesday lost 1 to 0 at Blackburn, as up against a tough proposition at Huddersfield to-morrow. The Bees are hardly likely to win. Chelsea has been hard hit by injuries and the team to oppose Grimsby Town has not been decided on.

SECOND DIVISION

In the second division, Charlton Athletic, tied with Leicester City on top, play Doncaster Rovers who share second place with Sheffield United. Leicester makes the long journey to Southampton and the United is host to Bradford, conqueror of Leicester on New Year's Day.

In the southern section, third division, Luton Town is setting the pace and should be able to win over Southend at the Kurrajong, Coventry City, the runner-up, is away to Newport County, Walsall, before its own supporters, will put up a great battle against the leading Rovers of Tranmere in the northern section.

BERNIE MORRIS IS EXONERATED

Portland, Ore., Jan. 3.—Dr. Gordon B. Leitch, president of the Northwest Hockey League, said yesterday he had found no evidence to support complaints of incompetency against Bernie Morris, referee, in connection with the play which resulted in injuries to Johnny Clarke, Vancouver, in a recent Vancouver-Seattle hockey game.

"It appears that Clark's injury was entirely accidental, caused when he lost his balance when he jumped into the air to clear a puck," the league president said. He said he had made an investigation, receiving a protest from Guy Patrick, manager of the Vancouver team.

Dr. Leitch also announced that Morris will referee the Vancouver-Portland game here Sunday.

MULTNOMAS BEAT VERNON

Touring Portland Basketballers Score 36 to 34 Win After Overtime

Vernon, Jan. 3.—Scoring two free shots just at the end of the overtime period, the touring Portland Multnomahs defeated Vernon's fighting senior hoopers, 36 to 34, yesterday evening.

At the end of the regular forty minutes the two teams were deadlocked, 32 to 32. On the resumption of play, the Americans scored once, only to have Jack Willis flip in a neat one-handed shot from the side. However, Portland sunk the two free shots and the final whistle sounded before Vernon could make another attempt at the opposition basket.

The half-time score was 19 to 19, with the Multnomahs leading. Teams and scorers follow:
Vernon—Cochrane, Urquhart 6, Jack Willis 16, Walter Willis 4, Dean 7, Greys 11, French, Neill, Carter, Total 34.

Two Cup Football Matches Will Be Played Here To-morrow

West and City In Feature At Athletic Park

Clash at 2.15 o'clock in Semi-final of McGavin Cup Competition

SECOND ELEVEN IN CUP REPLAY

Cup football will hold the spotlight on to-morrow's Victoria and District League programme. Victoria West and Victoria City, first division eleven, will meet at the Athletic Park at 2.15 o'clock in a semi-final of the McGavin Cup. Al McKinnon will referee. Victoria West and Esquimalt, second division eleven, will battle at Heywood Avenue at 2.15 o'clock in a Combination Cup replay. W. J. Cull will referee.

In the league encounters on New Year's Day the City and West both turned in victories. The former blanked Esquimalt 2 to 0 while the West came from behind to register a smart 3 to 2 decision over the league-leading Esquimalt club. Last Saturday the Greenshirts were beaten 6 to 3 by Esquimalt in the final of the Leeming Cup. With one trophy gone by the boards the Wests are determined to make a gallant effort to lift the McGavin trophy.

BARNES ADDS STRENGTH

Speed Challenger Is Being Built

Associated Press
Los Angeles, Jan. 3.—Harlan Fongler, automotive engineer, said yesterday work would be started within the next six weeks on a $100,000 automobile which he hoped would break the 301-mile-an-hour record of Sir Malcolm Campbell.

Fongler said the car would be powered with two 12-cylinder, 2,000-horsepower engines, mounted horizontally, one attached to the front wheels and the other to the back. It will be driven at the Daytona Beach, Fla., speedway by Lou Moore, well-known racing driver, said Fongler.

SOUTH AFRICA FARES BADLY

Springboks Collapse in Third Test Cricket Match With Australians at Capetown
Capetown, Jan. 3.—On a wicket made sticky by heavy rain, South Africa collapsed badly in the third day's play of the third cricket test match with Australia, being dismissed for a first innings total of 102 after the tourists had declared at their overnight score of 362 for eight wickets. Following on the Springboks had made eleven runs for no wickets when play was adjourned for the day.

Rain caused postponement of morning play and when Herbert Wade and Victor Richardson, South African and Australian captains, inspected the pitch at 2 o'clock an argument ensued. It was finally decided to start play at 2.45.

Charles Grimmett captured five South African wickets for thirty-two and L. Fleetwood-Smith two for twenty-one. Dudley Nourse, the only South African to master the attack, put up forty-four runs not out. The score card:

PUCK SHALL NOT PASS IS CREED OF ROY WORTERS

Whistling pucks, falling sticks, and flashing, keen-edged skates make the life of a hockey goalie a hazardous one, and furnish fans plenty of the excitement that makes the game so popular. Here are four flashes from the career of Roy Worters, New York Americans' net tender, showing that while he seems to be lying down on the job, he really is a busy man.

West-East Rugby Series Possible

Glac Bay Caledonians, Perennial Champions of East; Want to Make Trip to Pacific Coast For Canadian Championship Series With B.C. Titleholders; Have Brilliant Record

Glac Bay, N.S., Jan. 3.—The west's new-found football supremacy does not extend to English rugby, according to the Caledonians, rugged peers of eastern Canada, who hope to go west this spring to battle with the British Columbia titleholders for the Canadian championship.

Charles McVicar, manager of the mining town fifteen, has communicated with H. J. Ketchen, Victoria, B.C., president of the Canadian Rugby Union, who, while interested in the easterners' overtures, said, according to Mr. McVicar, that he never heard of the Caledonia team.

Several months ago Ketchen considered the possibility of staging Dominion playoffs, but several eastern sources felt that it was a practical impossibility in view of the heavy traveling expenses and the differences in the east and west playing schedules.

But the Cape Breton clubmen feel that if a satisfactory series could be arranged they would be able to make the cross-continent journey. Just what financial arrangements would be necessary was unstated.

ARE GREAT CLUB
The Caledonians are worthy representatives of the east. Undefeated in Maritime competition for the last four years, they are holders of the McCurdy Cup, emblematic of the Maritime championship, and the MacTier Challenge Trophy, which is recognized in most quarters as the eastern Canadian championship emblem.

Down Cape Breton way they have been undefeated league leaders for twenty-two successive seasons. The Glac Bay miner boys first traveled to Montreal in 1929, when they defeated the Montreal A.A. team by a 16 to 11 count, bringing the MacTier Cup to the seaside province for the first time in history.

It has remained here since, although the Quebec rugbyists have made two trips east, the first in 1930, when the B.A.A.A. squad and Caledonia played a 3 to 3 no-decision game. The most recent invasion was last November, when the Bank of Montreal fifteen dropped a 13 to 0 decision to the defending champions. Featuring deceptive passing with a speedy backfield, the Caledonians rolled up a total of 128 points against

Joey Was Year's Surprise Horse

Game Little Gelding, Owned By C. L. Jacques, Calgary, Gave Outstanding Performances on Canadian Turf During 1935; Leading Money Winner

Calgary, Jan. 3.—Spectacular form by little regarded horses is one of the features that make the sport of kings fascinating. Such a surprise was written into racing records by Joey, five-year-old gelding owned by C. L. Jacques, Calgary.

Leading money winner during the 1935 Canadian racing season with earnings of $9,480, Joey was practically given away while a sucking colt. Arthur Layzell, veteran Calgary breeder, sold the crippled brood mare, Aileen Hoey, to Jacques in 1930, and as a good-will gesture threw in the skinny, under-sized colt to complete the deal.

Joey is Jacques' pride. One whole wall in his home is covered with eighteen pictures of Joey going under the wire first and receiving wreaths in the winner's enclosure. "The little horse" is Jacques' name for the gelding.

Joey's pedigree is impressive. He is a son of the famous gelding, "The Black Gelding," who won the 1935 Canadian money-winner, over a slow track.

Seattle Making Great Comeback

Sea Hawks Whip Edmonton 6 to 2 For Fourth Victory in Six Starts in Northwest Hockey League Since Frank Foyston Returned As Manager

Edmonton, Jan. 3.—Frank Foyston's leadership was apparently all that was needed to start the Seattle Sea Hawks on a winning rampage in the Northwest Hockey League. The Hawks further proved this point here yesterday evening when they trounced Edmonton Eskimos 6 to 2.

The victory was Seattle's fourth in six games since Foyston relieved Art Gagne of the Sea Hawk managerial duties and it left the team only a point behind the third place Calgary Tigers and three points ahead of Edmonton.

Leo LaFrance, newly acquired from Canadians of the National Hockey League, led the Sea Hawks in providing two assists. Johnny Houbregs also was a standout, bagging two goals.

GAIN EARLY LEAD
LaFrance provided passes for Houbregs and Johnny Sheppard to score in the first period, giving the Hawks a lead they never relinquished. The Eskis tallied in the second period. Les Whittles scoring with Morris Rimstad and Ronnie Martin assisting, but Houbregs retaliated two minutes later on a pass from Sam McAdam.

LaFrance and McAdam scored Seattle's fourth and fifth goals in the final session before Manager Martin counted again for Edmonton with Whittles assisting. Harold Tabor completed the Sea Hawk scoring ten seconds before the final bell, with McAdam making the play.

Line-ups follow:
Seattle—Venne, Houbregs, Gilbooley, McAdam, Tabor, Proudlock, subs, Sheppard, LaFrance, Lyons and Mullen.

KIT KLEIN TO RETIRE SOON

Champion Woman Speed Skater of U.S. Through After Present Season

Buffalo, N.Y., Jan. 3.—Kit Klein, greatest woman speed skater of the United States, announced she would retire at the end of this season.

On the eve of falling for the women's championship events of Norway and Sweden as well as an "exhibition demonstration" in the winter Olympics in Germany, Miss Klein said she would be "through with the sport after my hardest season."

The Buffalo brunette gave as her reason for retirement the fact she now holds every woman's speed skating title, possible in the United States. She will turn to teaching youngsters.

RISKO HURT AND BOUT POSTPONED

Newark, N.J., Jan. 3.—An injured hand "Babe" Risko, world middleweight champion, suffered in training at Syracuse, yesterday led Matchmaker Babe Culnan to postpone Risko's ten-round fight with Young Terry, Trenton.

Culnan said the two would meet on January 20 or 27 instead of Monday. On that day, Terry will box Willie Lewis, Newark middleweight, in place of Risko, the matchmaker said.

THE YEAR OF PROMISE

The past year has been good to Vancouver Island. Mining and logging industries have produced a larger payroll than in any other year since the depression, while the gratifying increase in the number of tourists has done much to improve the tone of business.

It is our hope that the New Year will cover an even greater mileage on the highroad to Prosperity — that the island will experience an increase in industrial turnover—a larger number of tourists from everywhere—and that the comfort, convenience and economy of bus travel will continue in its ever-increasing popularity.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The meeting of Ward Three Liberal Association, scheduled for to-night, has been postponed to January 17, owing to the holiday season.

This evening there will be an illustrated lecture on the "Life of Christ" by Rev. P. Phillips at the St. John's Church, 1111 Douglas St., on Blanshard Street.

An unusually fine winter with little snow has been experienced on the prairies, according to M. L. Fairchild of the Imperial Oil Company at Swift Current, Sask., who is at the Empress Hotel to-day with his wife.

Premier Pattullo said to-day he has a speaking engagement for next Wednesday evening in Vancouver. He will address the Building and Construction Industries Exchange on matters of interest to those industries.

Friends here have heard from H. C. Cartwright, former private secretary to Premier Pattullo, that he has taken up newspaper work with The Rand Daily Mail in Johannesburg, South Africa. Mr. Cartwright left Victoria last summer for South Africa.

Members of the Victoria choral union are reminded of the rehearsal to hold this evening in the Memorial Hall. Reports of the last performance of The Messiah will be given and plans for the future. Singers are requested to bring their own copies of Brahms's Requiem.

The Chamber of Commerce auditorium has undergone extensive redecoration and renovation. An attractive color scheme has been carried out. It is now in first-class condition for all types of afternoon and evening parties, meetings or banquets. A commodious checkroom has been constructed, and, in addition, the auditorium boasts an excellent stage with lighting effects.

Discussion as to whether the future lumber production of Vancouver Island is endangered by the exportation of carload lots of Christmas trees took place at the meeting of the directors of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau yesterday. The matter will be taken up with the forest branch of the Department of Lands. It was also pointed out that the trees were shipped to a point in the United States and then distributed throughout the country with a large indication that they came from a United States city.

The St. John's Sunday school held its annual Christmas supper and tree recently. One hundred and seventy-five persons enjoyed a delightful supper served at gaily-decorated tables. A carol service followed and then the parents and guests joined the children in the entertainment, which included a variety of songs, dances, recitations and three plays. After which Santa Claus appeared and distributed a little gift to each child from the beautifully illuminated tree. Numerous special prizes were awarded for perfect attendance and lessons.

MISSIONARIES ARE MENACED

Thirty, Some of Them From U.S., Surrounded By Communist Army in China

Nanking, Jan. 3.—Thirty missionaries were in a desperate plight at Chihkiang, western Hunan province, with the city cut off and besieged by a Communist army. It was reported to-day to the United States embassy here.

United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson telegraphed Hunan authorities, requesting an immediate dispatch of troops to relieve the beleaguered city.

First word of the danger of the missionaries in Hunan province reached here Tuesday, when the embassy asked the Chinese Foreign Office to provide full protection for the Americans.

Authorities believed most of the beleaguered missionaries were Germans, including Catholic missionaries and members of the China Inland Mission, with United States headquarters in Philadelphia.

LOCAL RESIDENT IS BENEFICIARY

Vancouver, Jan. 3.—Application for probate of the will of Herbert Colborne Nanton of Victoria, who died May 1 last, was filed in Supreme Court to-day. He left a net estate of $54,936.

His wife, Margaret Anna Nanton, of Beaulieu, Haas, England, was designated by the authorities as a lawful widow to lose her license and be barred from employment. The majority of union seamen have been on strike since the beginning of December, demanding a forty-eight-hour week and better working conditions.

U.S. DEFICIT IS $1,879,651,192

Washington, Jan. 3.—The government closed 1935—half of the current fiscal year—with expenditures exceeding income by $1,879,651,192. This deficit compared with the $3,281,382,000 deficit which President Roosevelt has estimated for the full fiscal year ending next June 30.

The treasury year-end figures were made available as Mr. Roosevelt polished his budget message for the 1937 financial year beginning next July 1. They will go to congress Monday.

The public debt at the end of 1935 was $30,537,324,000.

Candidate For Saanich Post

Charles F. Hunt, Ward Two, Announces He Will Run For School Trustee

Charles F. Hunt, Holloway Street, Ward Two, Saanich, this morning announced his candidature for a seat on the municipal school board in the Saanich polling on January 20.

Mr. Hunt's announcement brings the total to three candidates for the three vacancies on the board this year. Trustees A. E. Hull and F. G. Aldous, retiring members, have signified their intentions of running again.

Trustee Walter P. Jeanne, chairman, also retires this year but he has made no statement of his plans. It has been rumored he may withdraw from municipal life this year.

Mr. Hunt has been a resident of Saanich for twenty years and has been pressed to run for the school board by a number of his Ward Two constituents.

ALBERTA CHIEF JUSTICE HERE

Chief Justice W. C. Simmons of the trial division of the Supreme Court of Alberta has arrived in Victoria with Mrs. Simmons from Calgary and is staying at the Empress Hotel.

The judge will shortly return to Calgary, but Mrs. Simmons plans to remain in the city for some time.

SHOULD STUDY FISH DISEASE

Such Work Is Essential, T. J. Alexander of B.C. Tells Fish Conference

Ottawa, Jan. 3.—Co-ordination of work of several agencies now carrying on game fish culture in British Columbia was advocated to-day before the national fresh water fish culture conference by T. J. Alexander, British Columbia assistant fisheries commissioner.

Three bodies, Dominion Department of Fisheries, Biological Board and British Columbia Game Board all were engaged in work of this kind on the Pacific Coast.

An effort should be made to appreciate the economic value of sport fishing and intelligent judgment might be exercised as to amounts which could be expended economically on fish propagation.

In British Columbia, there was like-wise the question of whether artificial propagation of freshwater fish was economical and in principle when artificially propagated fry were used to restock streams depleted by over-fishing. He believed it would be much better to prevent depletion by proper fishing regulation than based upon biological research.

Some of the biological character, he declared, was necessary also for proper biological surveys to determine whether or not particular waters were suitable for stocking.

Some system of surveys might be developed as a check against overstocking in relation to food supply and in order to ascertain the measure of fishing that could be permitted without risk of depletion. Application of such a system, he stated, was especially desirable in the case of waters readily accessible from motor roads.

Any consideration of freshwater fish culture in British Columbia must take account of salmon, which spawned and spent part of its life in fresh water and was the most valuable of all commercial fish of the province.

Australian Strike Threatens to Grow

Cable Press Cable via Reuters' Sydney, Australia, Jan. 3.—Australia's shipping strike threatened to spread to-day when representatives of the mining unions advised the government that they would support the strike unless the government ceased to license strike-breaking seamen. The miners will vote on the proposal January 8.

More than 60 per cent of the ships plying along the coast to-day were manned by seamen holding licenses. The Commonwealth government announced December 30 that no seamen would be permitted to work without such a license.

The government also warned that seamen participating in a walkout designated by the authorities as unlawful would lose their licenses and be barred from employment. The majority of union seamen have been on strike since the beginning of December, demanding a forty-eight-hour week and better working conditions.

New York, Jan. 3.—The British American Tobacco Company Ltd. brought suit in federal court yesterday against the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for $4,331,400, which it alleges it lost as a result of the executive order directing the surrender of gold bullion.

The company's petition sets forth that early in 1933 it decided it could best protect the cost basis of its leaf tobacco by the immediate purchase of gold bullion, since it was engaged in selling its products in competitive markets where payments were made in the pound sterling, in gold, silver and on a non-metallic basis.

MARKET NOTES

The first imported spinach of the season arrived in Victoria to-day. It is from producing areas in Texas and is reported to be of good quality.

There is a shortage of bananas on the local market. A shipment which arrived Tuesday has been slow in ripening and is still in the storage rooms on wholesale row.

Hothouse rhubarb prices have moved up two cents a pound. Rhubarb is now selling in local stores at nine cents a pound.

There are a few local hothouse tomatoes left but the Mexican tomato, with its superior keeping qualities, is fast taking over the market.

HEALTH BILL IS DRAFTED

Insurance Measure For B.C. Is Studied By Provincial Government

Health insurance for British Columbia has progressed to the stage where a new bill has been drafted for the consideration of the government, Premier Pattullo said this morning.

It was too early yet, said the Premier, to discuss the contents of the measure which has still to be carefully gone over by the cabinet. The Premier was himself studying the draft to-day.

"It is a complicated and highly important subject and I would not care to discuss it yet," he said.

The new measure is the result of years of study and has been drafted following ten months' work on the bill tabled in the Legislature last year by Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

A special hearings committee which sat last summer recommended in its report that the insurance scheme be confined to persons with incomes of $1,800 or less. Some would be assessed on a flat rate and others at 2 per cent of their salaries with employers paying 1 per cent under the committee's proposals. In return they would receive specified health services, including medical care, hospitalization and part of their drugs, whether this is the plan included in the new bill was not indicated.

Stavisky Trial Nearing End

Canadian Press from Paris, Jan. 3.—Three years after Serge Alexandre Stavisky was found shot to death in a lonely cabin in the French Alps the trial of those allegedly implicated in his huge frauds is nearing a dramatic finish.

The arch-swindler was charged with inflating a $200,000 bubble which, when it burst, shook French political life to its foundations. A Paris court still is unravelling the case and twenty-five persons caught in the Stavisky dragnet are on trial as his accomplices.

The prosecution rested after yesterday's session and the batteries of defence lawyers launched their arguments.

Since November 4, when the trial began, two-score court sessions have been held. A parade of political celebrities has marked them.

Youth Held On Murder Charge

J. Abramovitch in Custody; Montreal Gunsmith Slain; F. Schaffer Ended Life

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Joe Abramovitch, eighteen, and his alleged accomplice who shot himself to death as police closed in on him, were held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury to-day for the slaying of William Hanes, Montreal gunsmith. The coroner prosecutor announced Abramovitch would be arraigned later on a charge of murder.

The jury returned its verdict after listening to testimony of witnesses who told how two youths entered the little City Hall Avenue shop yesterday, came engaged in an argument over gun repairs and shot the gunsmith twice.

It was only a few minutes after Hanes died that Abramovitch was captured, a heavy pistol slung over his shoulder in a leather holster.

Police cars were closing in on the seventeen-year-old Frank Schaffer when word flashed through that a man had shot himself in a gasoline service station. It was there police found the youth who witnesses said was one of the men who shot the fifty-six-year-old gunsmith.

By him were two guns and a hurriedly scribbled note. He had been shot twice and died shortly after admittance to hospital.

"That Hanes affair," said the note, read at the inquest, "was all my doing. I fired the first shot, the shell is in my pocket. Joe was a young fool who chose the hardest way to easy money. He hates me. I took my life now, because it is better to have a dead body than a convict in the family."

THE TWYMITE

Story by HAL COCHRAN. Directed by GEORGE SCARBO.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The big balloon kept swaying and wee Ducky said, "I wish 'twould land. It's just a wee bit closer now, and there's a man inside."

"He doesn't seem excited, and I think I saw him wave his hand. If we'll just wait, perhaps he'll come and take us for a ride."

"Aw, no such luck," snapped Ducky. "I know he will stay up in the sky. I'll bet that Windy's guess was right. It's someone who is lost."

Then Scouty cried, "He's coming down, and look, he's acting like a clown! His crazy antics make me think of our old friend Jack Frost."

The strange balloon came near and then the whole bunch grew excited when, fair Goldy said, "No wonder you think Jack Frost is up there."

"That's who it is. I see his face. I know he's heading for this place. I'll bet he thinks that, when he lands, he'll give us all a scare."

Ten minutes passed. The balloon swerved round and settled down upon the ground. Ol' Jack Frost jumped right out and shouted, "Hi, there, Twymites!"

"I knew that I would find you here, and I have fine plans, never fear. Real shortly you all will be off to see some more new sights."

"Oh, goody, goody," Goldy cried, as she rushed up to Ol' Jack's side. "Both 1935 and '36 whizzed out of sight."

"Of course we met them. They were grand, but they've gone now. Please understand that we've enjoyed our trip up here. It turned out quite all right."

Jack smiled and said, "Well, this balloon, which you'll all ride in pretty soon, is what old Santa gave me. 'Twas a Christmas present, see?"

"A lot of sailing I have done and my, but I've had heaps of fun. I'm going up again and take you little twigs with me."

STARS RETURN TO HOLLYWOOD

Valerie Hobson and Lester Mathews to Leave Victoria Over Week-end

With their work completed, two of the leading stars in the Central Films production, "Tugboat Princess," Valerie Hobson and Lester Mathews will return to Hollywood over the week-end.

Miss Hobson, who made a name for herself on the English screen before going to Hollywood a year ago, has been loaned to Columbia Pictures Incorporated by Universal Films. Central Films is producing for Columbia here in accordance with the British quota regulations.

Miss Hobson and Mr. Mathews are expected to finish their parts in "Tugboat Princess," which also stars Walter C. Kelly, Clyde Cook and nine-year-old Edith Fellows, this evening or to-morrow.

To-day the company is working at the Willows studios on inside sets, representing the mess room of the tugboat Princess May and the interior of a longshoreman's home, the exterior of which was filmed on Montserrat Street.

To-morrow they will go on location to a small church in the Cedar Hill district for a wedding scene. This is the only outdoor scene remaining to be taken.

Kenneth J. Bishop, producer, expects to complete the final takes on Tuesday or Wednesday next.

REPUDIATION

company had endeavored to do what the present government has done: that is, cancel its duly signed contracts.

How would Parliament have acted in such a case? Doubtless, the power company would have been forced to make good up to the hilt, and rightly so, even if it "broke" them. Possibly I am old-fashioned, but that is the only honest way I know of to conduct business and, believe me, Mr. Hepburn and others that way would pay you in the long run.

I would like to know why a government which should be looked upon as a model of integrity to us all should be permitted, by any law of the land, or otherwise, to commit an action which in others it would punish by a heavy fine, or perhaps a prison term?

HAWKER AND MACKENZIE-GRIEVE

To the Editor:—A few days ago there appeared in The Times an interesting editorial inspired by the decision of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to take up residence with his family in England, and incidentally reviewing the early history of air crossings of the Atlantic.

Reference is made therein to one "Harry Hawker," who eight years before Col. Lindbergh's historic flight, attempted a solo crossing, but was forced down in the North Atlantic, and eventually rescued by a Danish freighter.

I have searched my memory in vain for some recollection of this solo flight, and am wondering if my memory at fault, or if possibly some error has been made.

My recollection is that an attempted flight was made from west to east by two men, Hawker and Grieve, in 1919. Their ship was a hydroplane and, when within measurable distance of their objective, they were forced down in the North Atlantic, out of all regular ship lanes, and after suffering exposure for a number of hours in a waterlogged plane, were finally rescued by a small freighter named the Mary.

Many students know that this states, in fact, the real issue, and it is stimulating to have exposed the naked savagery that is the real force behind the piously platitudinous resistance to social and economic reform in Canada.

It reminds me of those of us who may be, shall we say, overcivilized. What we are fighting against and the methods we may have to use in order to destroy it. And destroy it we will. The eminent editor speaks of "the law of life" which declares that the weak—that is, those who cannot survive under that "law"—shall perish. Well, we know a way to fix that: we'll just change the "law," using as our point of reference some such old-fashioned philosophy as the sermon on the Mount. Then, if under the changed law of life persons with the then obviously criminal instincts of the "noted Canadian editor" cannot conform, it will doubtless be the workings of a perhaps rough justice administered by Providence, that such persons should be liquidated.

In my own more unregenerate moments, I should prefer the liquidation to be mercy, but perhaps a more orderly civilization would require a punishment no harsher than that the name of Dora Kitzo. One of the sports attacked in fox hunting, and from the general tone of the article it is fairly safe to assume Dora Kitzo knows nothing whatever about fox hunting, and still less (if possible) about the English Parson, known as the sporting person. Foxes in England have a pretty good time—wherever there is a litter of foxes, the farmer, on whose farm the cubs are born, knows where the earth is, and takes good care they are not disturbed, and also puts food around for the vixen.

Eventually these foxes are hunted, some are killed, many are not, and if hunting was stopped foxes would be completely exterminated by the farmers within one or two years, as there would no longer be any reason for the farmer to protect them, but every reason to exterminate them as quickly as possible.

I am convinced that there is such a thing as a fox actually enjoying being hunted. When hounds met at a certain place in Yorkshire a fox was always found at one particular spot, and always gave us a fast thirty minutes, and always over the same ground to the same spot where all sign of the fox completely disappeared. It was soon discovered that it was always the same fox, and this continued for three years. The fox eventually disappeared, but it was never killed by hounds. That fox was well aware when hounds were in its vicinity, and I hardly think that fox would have behaved the way it did—the same time after time—if it was not getting a kick out of it.

I think if foxes were asked whether they would sooner be hunted, or exterminated in short order, they would unhesitatingly choose the former.

I think a secretary of an important institution, such as the Anti-Vivisection Society, would be better advised to write about something else known something about, or ignorance committed to paper invariably does harm, instead of good, to that which it is meant to benefit.

THE FOXES' FRIEND.

UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

To the Editor:—In your issue of Saturday last, Mr. Hutchison reported, without comment:

"A notable eastern Canadian editor, who is said to be the most quoted in Canada, as saying: 'There is no use talking about an unemployment relief policy for Canada. We have about a million people on the dole. We shall soon get to the point where the state simply cannot afford to pay for the cost of maintaining them. Then the unemployed will have to get out and scratch for a living somehow, on the land, or otherwise. Those who can't will have to starve. This is the law of life—the weak must perish and the strong survive, and nothing can interfere with it finally. In all civilizations the weak have been liquidated in some such fashion as this, and so it will be with us in America.'"

I hope that in the interests of the higher interpretative journalism of which Mr. Hutchison is such a shining ornament, this was supposed to stand, in itself, as its own ironical comment on the monsters which our rather praiseworthy civilization throws up from time to time.

Many students know that this states, in fact, the real issue, and it is stimulating to have exposed the naked savagery that is the real force behind the piously platitudinous resistance to social and economic reform in Canada.

It reminds me of those of us who may be, shall we say, overcivilized. What we are fighting against and the methods we may have to use in order to destroy it. And destroy it we will. The eminent editor speaks of "the law of life" which declares that the weak—that is, those who cannot survive under that "law"—shall perish. Well, we know a way to fix that: we'll just change the "law," using as our point of reference some such old-fashioned philosophy as the sermon on the Mount. To the Editor:—"Cruel Sport," an article in your to-day's paper, headed "Cruel Sport" appears under the name of Dora Kitzo. ## Detroit-Syracuse Win Hockey Games

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 3.—It's still Syracuse Stars and Detroit Olympia in the International "Hockey League." Although the Stars are far from comfortable in the heated eastern section, they are London Trenchmash and Buffalo Bisons push along within a point or two behind.

The Stars and Olympia both won games yesterday evening. Syracuse defeated the last-place Rochester Cardinals 4 to 0 and Detroit downed Pittsburgh Shamrocks 4 to 3 in an overtime battle.

It was the Stars, however, who needed a victory. The win pulled them a single point ahead of London.

Phone Worker Has Odd Job

Hollywood—They call Jack Burckard a "nerve-smoother" at a Hollywood studio.

His job, to say the least, is unique.

Jack is a telephone-cord unwinder.

All day, every day, you will see Jack going from one to the other of the 500-odd telephones on the studio lot, dangling the ear-pieces until the cord is unwound and completely free of kinks.

"It's not as silly as it sounds," says Jack. "I meet a lot of interesting people and they are always glad to see me. Say I take the kinks out of their lives."

Great Dancer Self-taught

Bill Robinson Famous Colored Dancer Never Had a Lesson in His Life

Hollywood—Dancers always seem happy in their work. One suspects, however, that back of the cool precision of Eleanor Powell or the scintillating display of Fred Astaire there lie many hours of grueling work top previous years of hard study under older masters of their art.

But a bearish note would stand in the dancing school market were many to follow the method employed by Bill Robinson, famed colored tap dancer, in attaining his present excellence. In learning as in rendition, he has found happiness. To him,
dancing is happiness.

Robinson, it appears, just grew up dancing.

"It may surprise some folk to know that I never took a dance lesson in my life," says Bill. "All the steps I have used and developed are my own.
People ask me how I know these things. I don't know how I know them. I just dance and laugh as the spirit moves me."

Bill recognizes, however, that dancing teachers have their place. In fact, he is one himself.

"I have been invited many summers up to Newport, and there I have taught some of the members of the first families of the land dancing steps, and on my visits to England, I have even taught steps to members of royalty."

TAUGHT WILL ROGERS
Bill was assigned the job of instructing Will Rogers to tap and shoe. In the great comedian's last picture, "In Old Kentucky," Rogers witt finds expression in his own unique rendition of the "Jennyjoolie" and other evolutions of the heel-and-toe

Wall Street Enjoys Broad Advance As Congress Convenes

Associated Press
New York, Jan. 3.—The stock market enjoyed a broad advance to-day as Congress convened and the financial district awaited with interest the President's annual message.

Gains of fractions to 3 or more points predominated. A number of new highs for the last several years were recorded. While a few of the mines and aircrafts were backward, the close was firm. Transfers approximated 2,700,000 shares.

The list made its best showing in the final hour, when a number of issues, uncertain earlier, were brought to the fore. The activity was the most pronounced in about a month. Industrial specialties, including scattered rails, oils and agricultural, held leadership throughout.

Stocks pushed ahead without aid of commodities. Grains held to a slim groove and cotton lacked vitality. Bonds tilted forward. The principal gold currencies developed weakness as French political doubts again appeared.

Among shares prominent in the upturn were Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Delaware & Hudson, American Radiator, Atlantic Refining, Phillips Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Chrysler, General Motors, American Telephone, Radio, International Telephone, Loew's, Owens-Illinois, Air Reduction, American Seating, General Asphalt, Nickel Plate preferred, Case, Deere, International Harvester, Gold Dust, Yellow Truck and Electric Autolite.

Wheat Prices Ease As Foreign Buying Support Dwindles

CANALS RULE AT TORONTO

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 3.—Selective buying gave the Toronto industrial share market a few strong issues to-day while moderate losses spotted the board.

British-American Oil rose to its top price for a year or longer to 18 1/2 on heavy turnover. Steel and construction stocks worked higher and utilities recorded more gains than losses.

International Petroleum and the McColl issues advanced moderately while Imperial dipped 1/4 point and fully recovered. Canadian Industrial Alcohol closed unchanged and Walkers common was off 1/4.

Ford "A" weakened 1/4 to 26 and Brazilian dropped 1/4. C.P.R. crowded the 12 mark for a gain of about half a point. Nickel closed on the up side and Smelters, around 202, was down about two points.

Price changes in heavy industrials were all gains. Canada Cement preferred, Canadian Drugs and Dominion Tar added fractional gains.

How to Be Good Mother A Problem

A YOUNG mother with her first baby asks me if I will tell her something about how to be a good mother. Well, nobody has seemed able to improve very much upon our grandmothers' recipe for rearing children.

They loved 'em and fed 'em, spanked them when they were bad and kissed them when they were good, taught them to fear God and wash behind their ears, and they turned out some pretty useful citizens. The greatest misfortune that has ever befallen the human race is the discovery that a child is a problem that has to be reasoned with instead of a little animal that has to be made to behave.

The main thing in being a good mother is not to overdo it. Be moderate. Love your child, but don't smother it in affection. Even a baby can get fed up on too much devotion and howl with disgust when mother surfeits it with kisses and caresses. Look after your youngster carefully, but don't always keep your eye upon it. Children crave some freedom just as much as adults do.

A famous baby specialist said not long ago that what the children of careful mothers needed more than anything else was a little wholesome neglect. They were killed with kindness. They needed to rough it a bit, to roll in the dirt and get themselves mused up, to eat what they wanted without regard to what vitamins it contained. Maybe that explains why Mamma's pampered darling is so often pale and anemic, while the little O'Grady's and Spennells across the tracks, who have to shift for themselves, are so hale and hearty.

Start molding your child's character while he or she is still in the cradle. Psychologists tell us that the pattern of a child's life is set by the time it is three years old, so you will have to do some pretty hard work. But if you do, it will save you a lot of trouble later on. Most mothers cherish the belief that they can bring a child up to be a spoiled brat and that after it is grown it will develop into an angel.

But this miracle never happens. Unless you teach your children to respect you when they are babies they will never do it. If you let them walk roughshod over you when they are little, they will trample you into the dust when they are older. If you teach them to be selfish, they will take the very bread out of your mouth to gratify their own desires. If you do all the work while they play, you will bring up sons and daughters who will be failures in life and whom you will have to support as long as you live.

Teach your child obedience, which is nothing but respect for the law. Half of the men and women who are failures in the world are those who cannot hold a job because they have never learned to take orders. Half of the hoodlum boys and girls were made that way by parents who never forced them to respect authority, or to obey any law except their own sweet will.

Teach your child good manners. Teach it good table manners. Teach it the usages of good society. Teach it what to say and what to do when meeting strangers. Give it a good approach. Good manners will do more than any other one thing to secure a child's success in life.

Teach your child to stand on its own feet. Teach him to rely on himself and make his own decisions and do his own thinking. You can't go through life holding him by the hand, and when fate forces you to withdraw your support he will stand or fall according to whether you have made a man of him or kept him a perpetual baby.

Teach your child courage. Breed grit into him. Develop his backbone. Life is full of knocks and unless he can take them on the chin he will be sunk. When a child falls and hurts itself, it will wait for high heaven if you pity it. But if you say Johnny is a brave boy and he doesn't mind a bump, Johnny will bite back his sobs and grin at you. And that settles Johnny's whole conduct through life and tells whether he will be a quitter or a fighter, whether he will sit down and whine when things go wrong, or carry on, until he forces luck to smile on him. It even settles whether he will be divorced or not.

And finally, Mother, don't be a possessive mother. Don't love your child so well you make your love a curse to it. Don't think you have a right to monopolize him or to regulate his life for him. Just love him and leave him to work out his own fate. Being a mother is a hard job. But it is a great one.

Uncle Wiggly Stuck In the Ice

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggly was always doing something. If it wasn't one thing it was another. His wife said: So did Nurse Fussy Wuzzy, the toughest lady housekeeper.

The most things Uncle Wiggly did was to look for adventures and try to keep the Bad Chaps from catching him. He even went adventuring in the big new storm I told you about last time.

"I knew you would get stuck in the snow," his wife said. "But I told you to stay home."

"So did I," squeaked Nurse Jane.

"But I got unstuck all right," said Mr. Longears. "And I had a ride home on Mr. Twisty's back."

"A regular piggy-back ride," laughed Nurse Jane.

"No it wasn't," said Uncle Wiggly also laughing. "but I won't have to ride home that way to-day. More likely I'll need a boat."

POST-CHRISTMAS TRADE IMPROVES

Associated Press

New York, Jan. 3.—Consumer buying for the week ended on the bulge of the holiday period but held above last year's comparative, Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., said to-day.

"The usual Christmas aftermath lowered retail sales in all districts from the total of the week preceding, and in some sections the recession was accentuated by heavy snows which disrupted traffic," the review said.

"Due to the lull in buying during the corresponding period a year ago, however, a favorable showing was made by the comparison, the estimated gain averaging from 2 to 8 per cent."

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel" SATURDAY, JANUARY 4, 1936

Beneath aspects again hold sway to-day, according to astrology. It is a time when recreation will bring together many persons who are important factors in world progress.

Under this rule of the stars the mental vision should be trustworthy. This is a time to make decisions and plans will lead to real achievement.

Merchants, bankers and men of affairs are subject to a stimulating influence which prearranges great business activity and expanding prosperity.

This is a favorable planetary government under which to write letters or to seek positions. Both men and women should benefit.

Although there may be much agitation among the masses of the unemployed, there is a sign prearranging continued authority for those who already wield power. This reading is believed to apply to public officials as well as business executives.

There is a sign encouraging severe judgment of one's neighbors. Gossip will be prevalent. Foolish tales will emanate from the national capital at Washington, where facts will be strongly mixed with fiction regarding public personages.

Members of Congress will indulge in speech-making that contains communications, arguments and bitter comment. A representative will gain headlines in the press because of an altercation.

Weddings will be numerous this winter among persons in government circles in the United States and abroad. Internationally, a year of varied interest and activity. Gain through friendships is prophesied.

Children born on this day probably will be strongly inclined toward initiative, original and independent. Subjects of this sign gain fame in unusual ways.

Dr. Isaac Pitman, educator and inventor of system shorthand, was born on this day, 1813. Others who have celebrated it are J. B. Clark, a noted interest and famous French commander, 1855, and also John R. Silliman, actor, 1855.

SEATTLE MAN HONORED

Seattle, Jan. 3 (Associated Press).—T. A. Davies, sixty-nine, early-day Seattle printer—he still carries a card—and former Alaska businessman, was nominated, unopposed, yesterday to become Seattle's "No 1 Citizen" January 18 at Chamber of Commerce president.
